FOR NEXT GOVERNOR OF PENNSYLVANIA

ADJT. GEN. D. H. HASTINGS,

Subject to the decision of the Republican State Convention

EDITORIAL BRIEFS

THE vote on the Blair bill is to be taken in the Senate next Thursday.

EVERY week it is made more plainly evident that General Hastings is the choice of the voters for our next governor.

IF there is one aspirant for the republican nomination for governor that would satisfy the masses that one is Adjutant General Daniel Hardman Hastings.

SPEAKER REED proposes to make things warm for the ex-Congressmen who abuse the privileges of the floor of the House by acting as lobbyists. There are a number of such.

A PENNSYLVANIA country editor is having a lively discussion with his correspondents about a phrase he used in writing up a wedding. He spoke of "the marriage obsequies."

THE Meadville Tribune-Republican, Senator Delamater's organ, prints columns every week telling of where the Senator is, what he said, how he looks, and what other people said to him and about him, but never a word has it to say about the methods he has adopted to have delegates elected favorable to himself.

A resolution has been adopted by the House calling for information from the Secretary of War as to the facilities and money at his command to guard the levees and government works from damage and destruction by the present flood in the Mississippi river, and also what steamers can be used to rescue those in peril,

THE last Sultan of Turkey was accustomed to shut himself up with a negro slave and his favorite wife in a secret room of his palace and there gloat over his treasures. Plunging his arms into a heap of gold dust and letting it slip through his fingers seemed to give him moe satisfaction than gazing on his pile of jewels.

THE sentiment among the Republicans of this county, if we do not mistake the tone, is decidedly in favor of General Hastings for Governor. He is an intelligent man, courteous and approachable and having sprung from the ranks knows the wants of the masses and has the courage to stand up for what he thinks to be right. He is not the creature of monopolies, but his feelings and interests are with the masses. Indiana county could not do better than elect Hastings delegates to the State Convention.—Indiana Messenger.

THE World's Fair bill as approved by the Chicago committee will probably get before the House this week. It provides for a commission to consist of two representatives from each state and territory and two from the District of Columbia and eight commissioners at large to be designated as the World's Columbian Exposition. It also appropriates $1,00,000 for the erection of buildings to display the Government exhibits, and that the United States shall not be liable for any debts incurred by the said incorporation. The question of date is still uncertain. The Chicago folks say they will be satisfied to have Congress settle that.

THE Tribune Republican, published at the home of Senator Delamater, seems to be on its ear about something. In its issue of last week it accuses us of mud-throwing—in the direction of its chosen candidate, Senator Delamater. We think our Meadville brother is kind of losing his head or else he is too badly soaked in standard oil to know what he is talking about. We have never referred to any of the gentlemen who are aspirants for the nomination for Governor only as gentlemen. We have several times printed articles that contained more truth than poetry about the way a certain aspirant for that honor, had adopted in order to get delegates, but there we only voiced the sentiment of thousands of the voters of Penn ylvania, and Mr. Delamater's organ should rejoice and take warrning, instead of becoming hot headed and angry.

WALLACE ON DECK.

Bright boys, those New York reporters. Here is the Hon. William A Wallace giving them the slip over a month ago and by some acute process of political alchemy hiding all knowledge of his whereabouts in this country until the day comes to descover his identity and his presence. The man who can successfully accomplish any such difficult thing like that rises above the measure of the ordinary statesman, and if his return to the United States has been a secret with the Democratic leaders of this state it has been well kept. The Clearfield Senator has been completing some mining investments out in California and Colorado and is now ready to give attention to the campaign by whose results he expects to be nominated for Governor at the Scranton convention.

This preliminary field work is an easy task for one of his calibre: No one has a better knowledge of Pennsylvania. No one can give a better practical application or deal in more subtle strategy than this eminent Democratic leader. With the lamented Lewis C Cassidy entered into rest and Samuel J Randall in sorrowing and enforced inactivity the last of the once imperious and truly great triumvirate has the road to himself and he can be depended upon to make the best use of every point. The battle in Pennsylvania this year for a successor to the chair held by General Beaver will be one noted for vigor and energy, provided Mr. Wallace heads the Democratic ticket. He has never been committed to the practices exercised in common politics.

An unusual man Mr. Wallace has as well unusual resources. When he fights it is to win. Charles R. Buckalew in 1872, Cyrus L. Pershing in 1875, Andrew H. Dill in 1878, Robert E. Pattison in 1882 and Chauncey I. Black in 1886 were typical representatives of the exact and modern blue-blue Bourbon, but Wallace belongs to the real old school. He is a Democrat of the Jefferson-Jackson stripe He is the relentless, unyielding partisan. His polittical belief is linked with his religion and the fine old Scotch warrior sticks out all over him.

Around Wallace it is admitted centres the last of Democratic hopes. In his leadership is the still unbroken seal of a faith that has rallied the Democracy in contests be they never so hopeless. And in Wallace the Republicans will find a foeman worthy of their steel. Wallace comes forth from hiding at the sign of those who enjoy his confidenc in the East and there will be music from all the bands from now on.—Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin.

STATE POLITICS.

Doylestown Intelligencer (Rep.) : Chairman Andrew's position is not very creditable to himself nor fair to the Republican party, any man of which has an equal right to aspire as Mr. Delamater aspires, and every one of whom is equally entitled to the same treatment from the State Committee.

A STRONG feeling exists in Philadelphia in favor of General Hastings. Mayor Fitler has openly declared his preference in unmistakable language in a published interview. So has Colonel Wendall P. Bowman in language almost as strong. Colonel William B. Mann has also announced his preference and states his reasons with force and directness. In the hope that the manifest enthusiasm may wane, the powers that be will postpone the primaries as long as possible.

Indiana (Pa.) Messenger (Rep.) : The friends of Delamater say the field is against their candidate. We are not surprised. He is the weakest man named for the nomination. He is not a man of ability and his only claims for the office are based on his large wealth, accumulated largely from his connection with monopolies. Such a man cannot be popular with the hard fisted Republicans of Indiana county. We would not object if Mr. Delamater would put sufficient funds into the hands of his friends in this county to pay the legitimate expenses of his campaign here—such expenditures as may be necessary for postage, stationary, etc. But we shall seriously object to his admirers using the machinery of the party to advance his interests. All candidates for nomination should have an equal chance in the contest before the people.

PENNSYLVANIA is in the midst of a smile Dame Fortune has lately let loose and Governor Beaver may have his ambition gratified in seeing the state's debt paid during his administration if the smile keeps broadening. By the Direct Tax Bill now in the final touches before Congress over $1,600,000 drops into the Keystone's cash box, and straight upon this comes intelligence that the decision of the Supreme Court at Washington affirming the constitutionality of the tax on loans is a victory for the state's accounting officers, and will place about $1,200,000 in the treasury. We take occasion to say that this prosperity in the cash line is due to a protective tariff.

HERE IT IS.

We always like to make explanations, and especially when they are so easy to make, therefore we take great pleasure in accommodating our neighbor by the bridge. We will answer the last question first.

In the first place the Watchman was in error in stating $12,000 contract indebtedness for the Karthaus and Howard bridges. The former was the only bridge contracted for and the price for it was only $6.500. Of this $400 was the only bill presented when the county statements went into the hands of the auditors and very naturally there was no account of any other. Such things were of yearly occurrence under democratic management. The Howard bridge was the same way almost, only that the work on it was done and paid for when bills were presented. As it was not contract work, and the bills were not all in at the end of the year, of course it was not all in the statement. Business is business and no man or company when they settle up their finances count in the contract indebtedness.

As to the former charge, we fail to find, from an examination of the statement, where the Watchman finds the $1,565,60 that it charges was never paid into the State. Admitting, however, that it is there, it is very easily to explain why it was never paid in. It has not yet been collected. In the statement is given the amount of tax levied for State purposes—which is in the neighborhood of $9,000. The amount paid over to the State is also given but, by an old established precepent, the amount of State tax uncollected is never mentioned in the statement; if it were there are still outstanding accounts of uncollected State tax as far back as 1885-6.

Furthermore, the county auditors never audit the accounts of State tax further than to examine the account sent from the State office at Harrisburg. Auditing of State tax accounts is done by the Auditor General and he certainly would not allow a discrepancy of $1,500 unaccounted for. It is all right gentlemen, and the books will show it.

THE PUBLIC HAS A RIGHT TO KNOW THE FACTS.

When the recent fatal breaking in two of a train on the Lake Shore Railroad killed half a dozen or more passengers and severely injured many others, the first thing the management did was to prevent, as far as possible, the fact from becoming known. Reporters were denied the means of reaching the scenes, but the details leaked out in ways that could not be stopped. No intelligent management will ever do this. The report of the bare fact of an accident leaves the public mind to imagine the worst, and in the absence of authentic particulars plenty of imaginary ones will get afloat. We are not so sure that managers should not be required by law with reasonable dilligence to make a statement of all the facts. The character of the facts makes no difference as to this only the worse they are the greater urgency for their publication. Nothing can be gained by attempting to suppress the truth. Great distress is always caused by the absence of particulars. The public has a right to know and will know to the extent the press can get at it all the news. It may be incomplete, but the incompleteness is frequently due to obstacles created by managers. The press is only intent on getting the facts. The railroad managers should be equally so. The road that should make a point of giving the very earliest and fullest particulars of any accident would gain a standing that would be invaluable to it with the public. It is a very stupid thing to attempt to suppress the fact of railroad or other accidents.

A HALF-DEMENTED hermit, who is supposed to be a victim of the Johnstown flood, has been living in a hovel in a gulch near the Carbon Hill bunkers not far from Tacoma, and he declares that soft coal is all that he eats.

THE BERLIN LABOR CONFERENCE

Berlin is now the scene of an international conference which possesses elements of great interest, not so much because anyone expects it to accomplish great results as because of the new direction in which it shows the imperial policy of Germany to be tending. There is excellent reason for the assumption that the German Emperor and his great Minister are not in harmony in their views upon the duty of Government toward the laboring classes. If they are in harmony, Prince Bismarck's mind has undergone a radical change since 1885. Until that time, at least, he had been an uncompromising opponent of all that savored of State interference between employers and laborers, and also of any international discussion of the subject. The policy so suddenly avowed by the young Emperor is not, in itself, a novel one. It has been frequently suggested in the Reichstag. Indeed, laws have been passed intended to shorten the hours of labor and to regulate the employment of women and children, but they have never failed to encounter the annulling force of the Federal Council and the Government. The Emperor Frederick, who enjoyed a reputation for philanthropy which certainly has hitherto been imputed to his son, confessed himself in his decree of March 12, 1888, unable to believe that the intervention of the State could be a cure for industrial ills. Only the year before a seeking to invoke such intervention was abruptly killed after Parliament had approved it. How sudden and startly is the present Emperor's reversal of the Imperial policy these facts attest.

In the light of these conditions it is not to be wondered at that the Emperor is delighted with the favorable answers to his invitations. The Conference is his, and its convocation marks the adoption of a German policy peculiarly his own. He cannot forget that its announcement was greeted with cynical politeness in England and France, and that much effort was made to induce the Governments of those nations to antagonize it. In the face of these rather galling discouragements he has succeeded in assembling the council, and there is no probability that his remarkable energy will end here. His proposals are simple, and, as our own experience has shown in America, easily carried out. He asks for laws regulating labor in mines, and in factories so far as women and children are concerned. He can doubtless be relied upon to show how they can be enforced in Europe, and we predict that the question will narrow itself down to one of will rather than of power. When that is the situation we shall be curious to see whether European liberalism is embodied in a royal tyrant or in the representatives of free government. The Powers have not come to Berlin eagerly and hopefully, as if they really wanted to accomplish beneficent results. They have come because a powerful monarch sent for them, and they have brought with them convenient reservations. They decline to be bound by the council's decisions. If it turns out that a prince of absolutism is more willing to protect labor and to promote its interests than are the Governments held in place by popular suffrage, a curious spectacle will be presented to the world.—N. Y. Daily Tribune.

IN the Saturday's issue of the Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin we were taken to task for our criticism on the article published in that paper regarding the supposition that Andrews had been poisoned. The Gazette and Bulletin should know that this paper never deals in even suppositions and its advice as to our knowledge of the subject all goes for naught. We did not pretend to lecture (lecturing was far from our intention or purpose, anyway, we only desired to set our neighbor aright) on "statements that paper never made" but on assertions that it did make, and which we reprinted to show the injustice of them and also how wholly untrue they were. We do not know that it does, neither do we accuse the Gazette and Bulletin with dealing in sensational news, but the article under discussion was fabulous and uncalled for.

LAST summer the Queen of Italy attained the loftiest point ever reached by a European sovereign by the ascent of the Breithorn, 23,785 feet.

SUBMISSION AND SILENCE A CRIME.

When a citizen from the private walks of life is called into council as a Cabinet Minister of our Government, he should possess other merits than those of a successful business man, and of eminent private character. To fit him for so high a position, he should have had experience in politics, and most essentially he should have been a student of government, of political economy, and, at least, familiar with the procedure and policies of other governments—the scope of his wisdom and understanding must be the measure of his fitness. But when one, not only devoid of such experience and study, is, from whatever consideration, thrust into the Cabinet and withal unfitted through a life's training as autocrat of a great Sunday-school, a big bazaar, or aught else, his mistakes will naturally be humiliating to a whole nation, and destructive to a political party.

Mr. Wanamaker, through training, is not accessible to the advice and counsel of those of large experience in affairs of State, nor is he solicitous of the advice of any one, nor considerate of the acts and aims of his own party, and while of the proper mould for cunning one's to play upon, for personal ends, he must of necessity give little heed to the ultimate effect of his schemes, if adopted, upon national character and policy.

The Post Master General's first mistake was his purpose of a recommendation that the weight of dry goods, and other packages, carried at nominal postage through the mails, should be greatly increased; the Government thereby entering into the Express business. The Express business is the outgrowth of many years of study and of experiment; it has commanded, to its full development, some of the ablest practical business minds of our country, and secured to its use over 60 millions of capital, and, under the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, decided to be a necessity to the people; and yet the Post Master General's intent was to have the party commit itself to the policy of competition with this enterprise.

The P. M. G's. second mistake was arbitrarily deciding that the Telegraph Companies' compensation, for the business of the Government, must be at rates proven to be much below the cost of service. This being clearly in violation of the plain provision of the constitution which provides that the property of the citizen shall not be taken without just compensation.

His next mistake to ask the party for provision of statute to enable the Government to furnish, gratuitously, certain facilities and certain guarantees of business to speculators who will promise to secure competition with present established telegraph companies; the scheme marking an injustice that the people would never sanction or sustain. These accomplished, his next mistake would no doubt be to ask that the Government enter upon its lands in the west, where coal, iron ore, and limestone could be obtained without cost of royalty, and by importing labor to work at lower wages than the just and equitable scale to which labor is entitled, establish works for the production of iron and steel, now a necessity in the economy of life of every citizen, at greatly reduced cost.

No government has the right to enter, directly or indirectly, into any enterprise in competition with private citizens, and no government of civilized peoples, anywhere on the face of the earth, has ever yet done so.

To remain silent under such mistakes would be a wrong to party, and a crime against the state. To submit to such dictation is to breed within the party a horde of sycophants whose indiscriminate cackling over everything new, and who, ever endorsing with loud acclaim men and measures however bad, drives from the party many of the brightest and best intellects to form new party alliances outside.

The Philadelphia Times, —always progressive, bright and enterprising passed the fifteenth milestone in its career yesterday. The TIMES is an every day story of what energy and fearless journalism can accomplish. It is second nature to scan its columns for the best epitome of current and general events, and its many thousands of readers know that in the unexpected always happening the TIMES can be depended upon to tell the true situation. May the power of its elbow never grow less.

Our Story Teller.

BUSINESS IS BUSINESS.

(Treasure Trove.)

There is a man who lives in the city of New York who has accumulated quite a fortune by simply advising people what to do. There always will be a large number of persons who are unable to rely on their own judgment. Others come to a conclusion with ease and certainty.

A young man had accumulated $1000, and was debating whether he should buy a small candy store with it or whether he should lend it on a mortgage. This latter he knew was a secure way. The other promised great profits.

In this perplexity, he saw an advertisement: 'Advice given to those going into business.'

After stating his case, the counsellor said, 'My fee will be $5 in advance.'

When this was paid, he asked;

'Do you understand the candy business?'

'No; I did not think it was necessary' I expect to supervise it merely.'

'Then you will lose all your money in three months.'

'You think I had better lend the money on the mortgage?'

'I do not say that. What is your business? that is, what do you perfectly understand?'

'I know the pickle business through and through. I can make pickles of all kinds; but I do not like it.'

'Never mind what you like. Go and get a small place and make pickles. Go from hotel to hotel, restaurant to restaurunt, and sell them. In ten years come back and see me: You will have $10,000 at least.'

As the young man was going away, he was called back.

'Here is a card. I want you to put it where you can see it a hundred times a day.' These were the words on the card; 'Business is business. Men don't do what they like; they do what they can.'

The card had a strange fascination for him. He read it with care as he walked along the street. As he studied it, new light seemed to enter his mind.

He found a dingy basement, and began to arrange for his operations. Of course, vinegar must be got, several barrels of it. Some was offered him at ten cents a gallon, some more was shown at five cents. 'Which shall I take?' He thought of the words on his card. He seemed to see people testing his pickles, and, not liking them, depart without buying. 'They will know good vinegar,' thought he; and he knew he must market them. Now he greatly dreaded to face strange people, and push his goods upon their notice. He never had courage when a boy; and now as a young man he felt more timid it seemed. But he thought of the words of the card, and entered a restaurant. The evident manager was a blooming young woman; and the pickle-dealer was more afraid of women than men. But 'business is business' repeated itself over and over and over in his mind.

The answer to his statement was that his pickles would be tried, and, if found all right, would be purchased.

'Glad I got that good vinegar,' thought the young man; and he began to feel that there was a certain power in the maxim his adviser had given. He began to feel a courage he had never expected in meeting people, and trying to sell his goods to them.

Calling at a store to get, if possible, an order for pickles in bottles, he was quickly and rudely met with, 'Don't want to see any such stuff.' Noticing the utter dismay on the young man's face, the merchants said, short and sharp: 'Don't you know enough of business to put up your goods attractively?'

As he retreated, ruffled and disheartened, the maxim repeated itself over and over, with this additional sentence. 'It is business to put up goods attractively.' He sought out a lithographer, and had some handsomely colored labels printed.

'They will buy the bottles,' said a friend, 'just for the picture you have on them.'

When he had gained sufficient courage, he sought out again the merchant who had rebuffed him. 'I have come to make you a present of a bottle of fine pickles.'

"Why do you make me a present of them?'

'Because you gave me advice that is worth a great deal.'

The morning of one Fourth of July came, and he pondered whether to go to his store or not. All at once he thought, 'People going on picnics will want pickles.' It was the magic words on the little card that ran through his mind. He found, as he had thought, a large number of buyers waiting for him.

The little card was consulted in all sorts of weather: If a man made a proposition to him of any kind, and he was in doubt, he would go and look at the words, though he knew them by heart already. One day a cheese merchant came to persuade him to buy his stock.

'People,' said he, 'who buy pickles always buy cheese. You will do a big trade.' It was a temptation. He went and looked at the words, and studied them intently, trying to think out their application to the case in hand. 'Men do what they can,' he reflected. 'I would like to sell cheese; but I know I can sell pickles.' Then he returned. Now he was resolute and firm, although by nature easily bent and swayed by the words of others.

'Business is business,' he said. 'I am in the pickle business. If I cannot make money in this I shall quit, and go into something else; but I will not have two kinds on my hands.'

It was a turning-point. After this he could refuse all influence to go into something that seemed at the time more lucrative. He was not only industrious; it was plain he had a fixed principle of action, Of course he was successful. All men who put industry and mind to their work are bound to be successful. When the ten years were up, of course he had the $10,000, and more too.

Man's Flattery to Woman.

I would also advise young women not to depend for happiness upon the flatteries of men. It is a poor compliment to your sex that so many men feel obliged in your presence to offer unmeaning compliments. Men capable of elegant and elaborate conversation elsewhere sometimes feel called upon at the door of the drawing room to drop their common sense and to dole out sickening flatteries. They say things about your dress, and about your appearance that you know, and they know, are false. They say you are an angel. You know you are not. They tell you that "you are looking singularly beautiful this evening," when you know very well that the remark is only a commonplace one. Some men think that a conversation with a woman is interesting only as it is dotted and spiced with flatteries and meaningless compliments, Determined to tell the truth in office and store, and shop, they consider it honorable to lie to a woman. The same thing that they told you on this side of the drawing-room, three minutes ago they said to some one on the other side of the drawing-room. Oh let no one trample on your self-respect. The meanest thing on which a woman can build her happiness is the flatteries of men.—Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, in March Ladies' Home Journal.

The First Lightning Rod.

Everybody believes that Franklin was the inventor and constructor of the first lightning-rod. In this one particular everybody is mistaken. The first lightning catcher was not invented by the philosopher, but by a poor monk of Scuttenberg, Bohemia, who put up the first lightning rod on the palace of the curator of Preditz, Moravia, June 15, 1754. The name of the inventive monk was Prohop Dilwisch. The apparatus was composed of a pole surmounted by an iron rod, supporting twelve curved branches and terminating in as many metallic boxes filled with iron ore and enclosed in a wooden box-like cover, traversed by twenty-seven iron-pointed rods, the basis of which found a resting place in the ore box. The entire system of wires was united to the earth by a large chain. The enemies of Dilwisch, jealous of his success, excited peasants in the locality against him, and under the flimsy pretext that his lightning-rod was the cause of the excessive dry weatner, had the rod taken down and the inventor imprisoned. Years afterward M. Melson used the multiple pointed rod as an invention of his own.

He Felt That Way, Too.

It was down in a Pennsylvania town, during the process of a late revival meeting. A good old saint had just given her experience, which was triumphantly expectant but exceedingly humble and depreciative. After an affecting speech she concluded by expressing her hope of Heaven's mercy to her a "weak worm of the dust.' There was a silence, then an old man arose who had been sitting some seats behind the old lady, and leaning forward eagerly with his hand to his ear to catch each word. 'Brethren, he tremblingly began, 'I feel like the sister—a weak, wormy old cuss.' The gravity of the meeting was somewhat impaired.

The 1890 Assessment:

The assessment for 1890 will now soon be made—the month of April being the time in which the work must be done. The assessors this year will have extra work to perform because of this being census year. For statistical purposes it will be necessary to designate every voter, whether colored or white. Then under the act of May 15th, 1889, an assessment will have to be made of all dogs. This will be hard to do and will necessitate the carrying of a shooting-iron, we suppose, as wherever a dog is found and no man claims him, he is to be killed. This will be hard on the dogs but a joy to the traveler.

A PEEP AT THE PAST.

How We Grow—Curiosities of the Long Ago.

Through the kindness of Mr. Ellis Irwin we have before us a copy of the Bellefonte Patriot, dated March 5, 1825. It was edited by Thomas J Petrikin, and nothing will better illustrate the marvellous progress of the present age than Mr. Petrikin's leading editorial in that issue. The Cambria Gazette had apparently announced its belief in the possibility of building the Pennsylvania railroad, and backed it up by publishing a letter from James McIlvain, of Delaware county. The Patriot ironically seizes the opportunity to belabor both the Gazette and Mr. McIlvain with his ridicule. Hear it; the italics are its own:

"Truly the information given by this gentleman, who, perhaps, never seen the Allegheny mountain in his life, must be very correct indeed! Towering mountains and stupendous rocks are matters of small moment in this Quixotic gentleman's estimation. Without for a moment considering the incalculable expense and time it would require to accomplish this object, he unhesitatingly pronounces it perfectly practicable. Hear his own words.

I, for one sir, have no doubt of the practicability of cutting the proposed tunnel, as well through the solid rock as earth.

Wisely said.—And this is the gentleman from whom the sage editors of the Cambria Gazette derive all their correct information; ha! ha! ha! he! he! he! It may do well enough for a gentleman living in Delaware county to talk about the practicability of cutting through a solid rock four and a half miles in breadth, and 754 feet in height, but we rather suspect that the editors of the Gazette will find some difficulty in palming such ridiculous nonsense upon the intelligent citizens of the western country as 'correct information.'"

This of course, sounds very ridiculous in the light of the present development of travel by rail, to which mountains, valleys and rivers are no obstacle.—Raftsman's Journal.

Isn't It Funny.

There's nothing on earth so mysteriously funny as an advertisement. The prime first and last and all the time, object of an advertisement is to draw custom. It is not, was not and never will be, designed for any other purpose. So the merchant waits until the busy season comes, and his store is so full of customers he can't get his hat off, and then he rushes to his printer and goes in for advertising. When the dull season gets along and there is no trade, and he wants to sell his goods so bad, he can't pay his rent, he stops advertising. That is, some of them do it, but occasionly a level headed merchant does more of it and scoops in all the business, while his neighbors are making mortgages to pay the gas bill. There are times when you couldn't stop people from buying everything in the store if you planted a cannon behind the door, and that's the time when the advertisement is sent out on its holy mission. It makes light work for advertising, for a chalk sign on the sidewalk could do all that was needed and have a half holiday six days in the week; they are built to hard work, and should be sent out in the dull days, when a customer has to be knocked down with hard facts and kicked insenible with bankrupt reductions, and dragged in with irresistable slaughter of prices, before he will spend a cent. That's the aim and end of advertising, and if ever you open a store don't try to get them to come when they are already sticking out of your windows, but give them your advertisement right between the eyes in the dull season, and you will wax rich, and own a fast horse and perhaps be able to smoke a cigar once or twice a year. Write this down where you'll fall over it every day. The time to draw business is when you want business and not when you have more business than you can tend to already.—Advertisers Guide.

Stanley's Own Book.

Mr. Stanley has advanced so far with his account of his adventures in achieving the rescue of Emin as to be able to announce the title of his book. All sensible persons will await with patience for the publication of the authentic account. "In Darkest Africa; and the Quest, Rescue, and Retreat of Emin, the Governor of Equatoria," though there will be an abundance of Stanley literature turned out from the printing presses during the next few months. Probably the smooth-tongued book agent will be able to convince some guileless persons that he is retailing "Stanley's Own" long before the only genuine narrative of the great traveler's heroism, privation and suffering is given to the world. Would be purchasers should be on their guard.—New York Tribune.

Governor Beaver's Eye Westward.

Governor Beaver and Secretary Stone and several of their friends have in contemplation the establishment of a bank at Seattle, Washington, in the near future. George Pearson, private secretary to the Governor, has been asked to assume the management of the proposed institution, and the surrender of his present position is probable.

VERY MUCH MARRIED.

Charles W. Sterling, just sent to the Ohio penitentiary for bigamy, was the most numerously married man in the West. He took the nupitial vow with no less than eight women, three in Minneapolis, one in Milwaukee and four at parts further east.

Sterling was leading man at the Pence Opera House, in Minneapolis, for two years. During his stay here he kept the heart crushing business going at a lively rate, and the strange thing about it all is that his remarkable escapades here were kept out of the papers. This is all the more singular, when it is known that while the first Minneapolis Mrs. Sterling of which there is any knowledge was in tears over the mysterious disappearance of her new-made husband, the second Minneapolis wife was prostrated by Sterling's abandoning her at a private boarding house in Milwaukee, and before Minneapolis wife No. 2 realized that she had been betrayed, another Mrs. Sterling called at police headquarters in Chicago and reported that her husband had left her suddenly and without giving her any idea of where he was going. The latter's tale of woe was published in the Chicago papers, but Mrs. Sterling No. 3 knew nothing about what had occurred in Minneapolis and Milwaukee.

The District Court records in Minneapolis show that on November 8, 1888, a marriage license was issued to "Chas. W. Sterling and Frances M. Roach," and on January 21 following a license was issued to "Charles Sterling and Emma Jean Mears." Miss Roach was a pretty brunette, about 20 years of age, and first met Sterling at the hotel at which she was employed. They were married four days after the license was issued at the parsonage of the Centenary M. E. church by Rev. George W Miller. The honeymoon had continued a week when Sterling met and "loved" a sprightly widow, Mrs. Emma Jean Mears. His professional work required his time at the Pence Opera House in the evenings, but he managed to find time to visit the widow nearly every afternoon. His marriage with her occurred at the home of Mr. Folsom, a well-known resident of East Minneapolis, on the evening of January 21. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. N. McKaig of the Hennepin Avenue M. E. church. The reverend gentleman will always remember that wedding. When the nuptial knot was tied the groom shook the hand of the divine in a truly cordial manner, and after thanking him handed him a check for $20 on the People's bank. The good minister afterward found that Sterling never had a penny to his credit in that bank.

On February 5, just two weeks after the wedding, Sterling deserted his wife at the boarding house, 543 Milwaukee street, Milwaukee. She reported her desertion to the police and requested that the facts be kept a secret. This was done. Sterling had taken $50, all the money she had, and she was left penniless. After Sterling had been gone several days he wrote to his wife that he had been called away suddenly, and expected to join her again. He told her where she could find her trunk.

About the time wife No. 2 received the note from Sterling, the abandoned wife, No. 1, nee Roach, in Minneapolis, received a tender missive from the facile pen of the much married actor. He apologized for his sudden and abrupt departure "from a lovely creature whom he dearly loved," and excused his conduct by saying that Manager Bock, of the Pence Opera House, with whom Sterling had been associated, "intended to make trouble." Wife No. 1 and wife No. 2 have both lived in Minneapolis during the past year.

After going to Chicago Sterling appeared as "Squire Arden" in "My Geraldine," which was being played at the Bon Bon theater. He was a guest at the Ogden House, and there he met and won Miss Helen Walter, an attractive blonde. They were married about February 25, and a few days afterward there was another case of desertion.

What occurred after Sterling left Chicago is not known, any more than he kept up the marrying business until he got into the Ohio penitentiary. He is about 40 years of age, good looking, particular about his dress, and a pleasing conversationist.

Umbrella Flirtation.

There is a language of umbrellas as well as of flowers. For instance, place your umbrella in a rack and it will indicate that it will change owners. To open quickly in the street means that somebody's eye is going to be put out; to shut it, that a hat or two is to be knocked off. An umbrella carried over a woman, the man getting nothing but the drippings of the rain, signifies courtship. When a man has the umbrella and the woman the drippings it indicates marriage. To punch your umbrella into a person and then open it means, "I like you." To swing your umbrella over your head signifies "I am making a nuisance of myself." To trail your umrrella along the foot-path means that the man behind you is thirsting for your blood. To carry it at right angles under your arm signifies that an eye is to be lost by the man who follows you. To open an umbrella quickly it is said, will frighten a mad bull. To put a cotton umbrella by the side of silk one signifies "exchange no robbery." To purchase an umbrella means "I am not smart, but honest." To lend an umbrella indicates "I am a fool." To return an umbrella means—well, never mind what it means, nobody ever does that! To carry your umbrella in a case signifies that it is a shabby one. To carry an umbrella just high enough to tear out men's eyes and knock off men's hats signifies "I am a woman," To press an umbrella on your friend, saying, Oh! do take it; I had much rather you would than not! signifies lying. To give a friend half of your umbrella means that both of you will get wet. To carry it from home in the morning means "it will clear off."

A LADY'S PERFECT COMPANION.

PAINLESS CHILDBIRTH, a new book by Dr. John H. Dye, one of New York's most skillful physicians, shows that pain is not necessary in Childberth, but results from causes easily understood and overcome. It clearly proves that any woman may become a mother without suffering any pain whatever. It also tells how to overcome and prevent morning sickness' swelled limbs, and all other evils attending pregnancy. It is reliable and highly endorsed by physicians every where as the wife's true private companion. Cut this out: it will save you great pain, and possibly your life. A Good Move.

From the Farmer's Friend.

The Patrons of Centre county, under auspices of Centre County Pomona Grange, No. 13, have purchased twenty-five acres of land, adjacent to the beautiful town of Centre Hall, for their picnic grounds. The price paid, $2,875. The Grangers' Great Picnic Exhibition of Central Pennsylvania will be held on these grounds during the week of September 15th to 20th inclusive; just two weeks after the closing of the Grangers' Interstate Picnic Exhibition at Williams' Grove, Pa. There is every indication at this writing that these two great meeting of farmers will be more largely attended than ever. It is now definitely ascertained that many exhibitors will ship their machinery direct from Williams' Grove to Centre Hall, and a number of the largest manufacturers in the country have determined within the last two weeks to make Williams' Grove and Centre Hall their only points of exhibition.

Was he Murdered:

The manner in which Frank Smith, a brakeman on the Ridgway and Clearfield railroad, lost his life, last week, is still shrouded in mystery. He was found dead on the railroad track near Brockwayville. It is said that the back part of his skull was crushed in as if done by a blunt instrument. His pocket book and watch were gone, and railroad men who saw the body of the young man are of the opinion that he was foully dealt with. The first supposition, that he was knocked off his caboose by a passing train, is a theory not accepted by his friends from the character of the injuries sustained. Mr. Smith was highly respected. His funeral took placa at Sterling, Thursday, and was attended by a delegation of Odd Fellows from Renovo Lodge, of which he had been a member.

Susanna Snooks sings sad, sweet songs, she sees soft summer skies; strange sunset shades sift silently—she somewhat sadly sighs. Soliloquizingly she strays, sweet songsters shyly sing, she sees slim spruces' slanting shades surround some sparkling spring. Still southward silently she strays. She spies shy Simon Slade. "Stop, Simon!" says Susanna Snooks. Still sifts sweet sunset's shade. Shy Simon six snug satisfying squeezes slyly stole; Susanna snickered. Simon stayed. Sick, silly, spoony soul. Susanna's sire saw some sly, suspicious stranger stay. Saw Susan say, "Stop Simon Slade!" Saw simple Simon stay. Stern sire sought some solid stick—serenely, slyly slipped. Susanna saw. She shrilly shrieked, "Skip Simon!" Simon skipped.

ROBERT NEILSON, General Agent

The Honest Reporter.

Harrisburg Patriot.

At a recent annual dinner of the Pittsburgh Press Club, George S Melshons [St. George], one of the best known and wittiest newspaper men of the State, got off the following in response to the toast, 'The Reporter.'

'There are three grand divisions,' Mr. Melshons said, 'in newspaper work—journalists, reporters, and editors. Speaking more accurately there are three stages of developement. A journalist is a calf reporter. He is a reporter in the miniature tadpole stage, when his head is so big that it takes all the rest of his person to shove it around. If he is lucky, by and by he becomes a reporter. After the reporter's legs wear out they make an editor out of him. The final stage of a frog, you know—the extreme removal from the tadpole—is the bull frog, too stiff to jump, too old and tough to eat, who just sits on the bank and bellows, That is an editor.

In the old days the editor called a man a chicken thief, nowadays the reporter finds the feathers in his back yard. The weapon of the old time editor was epithet; that of the modern reporter is the evidence. What the editor used to assert the reporter now proves.

"If the people who complain of what the reporter writes about them would only consider what he does not write about them, they would shrine him in their hearts. The waste-baskets in a daily newspaper office of any town do more to keep its citizens in good repute than any other agency excepting the law and the fear of the hereafter. Not all that the reporter writes is truth. He is not infallible himself, and those who are the sources of his information are much less so. There are very many men who cannot tell a straight story. There are others who do not try to. The man who tells the story to the reporter is usually an interested party. He has a purpose in metamorphosing this or supressing that. The reporter has no desire except to get the truth accurately and completely, and to write it quickly and entertaingly.

"All men do not love the reporter, and I am glad of it. The fear and hatred of bad men is a chaplet above his brows. It is the assurance of his honesty to his badge of honor as a servant of truth. If a time ever comes when all men love the reporter it will be time to bury him. He will have forgotten his mission, betrayed his trust and shamed the noble fellowship of men who have made the white cross of the Pittsburg reporter the decoration of a legion of honor.

Piles! Piles! Piles!

Dr William's Indian Pile Ointment is the only sure cure for Blind, Bleeding or Itching Piles ever discovered. It never fails to cure old chronic cases of long standing.

Judge Coons, Maysville, Ky., says: "Dr William's Indian Pile Ointment cured me after years of suffering."

Judge Coffinbury, Cleveland, O., says: "I have found by experience that Dr William's Indian Pile Ointment gives immediate and permanent relief."

We have hundreds of such testimonials. Do not suffer an instant longer. Sold by druggists at 50c. & $1 per box. ap4-1y

The Woman.

The man who does not respect and protect, but degrade woman, degrades himself and is not to be trusted. By degrading womankind means degrading mankind. Modern Bible writers would picture the woman as the masterpiece of beauty, of purity, of sweetness of grace, and of charming attractions, the leader of fashion and society, the dearest and noblest creature on earth; that she was created of the finest, purest and rarest metal in Nature's labratory. They would picture the woman as the queen rose of the human race, the brightest shining star in the skies of the animal kingdom, as man's superior ornament of all ornaments, his pet of all pets, and the angel of heaven and earth, full of sweet love from crown to sole; charity, mercy, peace, kindness, sympathy, is stored in her heart, cropping out through her lovely, charming, magnifying eyes.—Ex.

Is Consumption Incurable?

Read the following: Mr. C. H. Morris, Newark, Ark., says: "Was down with Abcess of Lungs, and friends and physicians pronounced me an Incurable Consumptive. Began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, am now on my third bottle, and able to oversee the work on my farm. It is the finest medicine ever made."

Jesse Middlewart, Decator, Ohio, says "Had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption I would have died of Lung Troubles. Was given up by doctors. Am now in best of health." Try it. Sample bottles free at W. C. Keplinger & Co's drug store.

From Ocean to Ocean.

Over thirty-two years ago, Mr. Alfred Speer, of Passaic, imported from the banks of the Doura, in portugal, a few of the Port Grape vines, and commenced careful experiments for the purpose of producing a first-class American Port both fermented and unfermented. He has been eminently successful, and now Speer's wine and unfermented juice is, known from ocean to ocean, and endorsed by the best medical talent in the world as the best now produced for the use of invalids. GETTING DANGEROUS.

New Orleans Seriously Threatened with Inundation.

SIDEWALKS SUBMERGED.

The Water Running Freely Over the Levee and a Large Portion of the City Flooded—The Outlook by No Means Reassuring—At Other Points.

NEW ORLEANS, March 15.—It has been raining steadily but slowly since 8 p. m. yesterday. The rainfall has added to the water passing over the levees in front of the city, and, running back, has overflowed a large section in the vicinity of Claiborne street.

The river gauge shows no material change. The water is flowing over the levee rapidly at the head of Peters street, and the sidewalks and streets in the vicinity are submerged. The water is also running over the levee pretty freely at Third, Fourth, Sixth, Eighth, Toledono, Sarapetu and State streets.

The Outlook Bad.

Gangs of men are working along the levee at many points, and the flow of water into the city may be checked if there is no further rise. The railroads are doing good work in assisting the authorities all along the line. The outlook this morning, however, is by no means reassuring.

The state of the river at the following points last night was:

At Baton Rouge the river rose six inches. At Bayou Sara it rose nine-tenths of a foot, and at Natchez six-tenths.

At Greenville, Miss., the river rose two inches, and about the same at all points in that section. The levees still hold out. At some places below Arkansas City the water is running over the levees. Rain continues.

Rising All Along.

At St. Joseph, La., the river rose six inches. Heavy rain still falling.

At Donaldsonville, La., the river rose seven inches, and is now eight inches below high water mark.

At West Melville the Atchafalaya river is rising. Levees are in bad condition and can not stand a rise of five inches more.

At Vicksburg the river rose two and one-half inches. There was strong wind with rain all day.

At Plaquemine, La., the river rose six inches.

At Lake Providence there was rain and high wind all Wednesday night. It rained all yesterday and the river rose one and one-half inches.

Greenville Safe.

Greenville, Miss., reports up to 6:30 from all points in that levee district above and below indicate that all is still safe this side of the river. The levees above will stand from three to five feet, and below two to five feet more water than there is now to contend with.

Full confidence is felt that there will be no break or overflow in that district. The rain has fallen for fifty-four hours, and the total fall exceeds five inches. The river there rose one a half inches in the last twenty-four hours and is still rising, with the gauge indicating forty-three feet.

At Alexandria, La., the rainfall since Tuesday was four and a half inches. The river is still rising.

He Was Scared Off.

NEWPORT, March 1.5—A burglar entered the cottage owned and occupied by Miss S. E. Blatchford, a sister of Judge Blatchford, of the United States supreme court, and stole her gold watch and chain. Miss Blatchford heard a strange noise upstairs early in the evening, but thought nothing of it until she discovered her loss when she retired. The burglar could just as well have taken the jewelry case and other valuable articles. He must have been scared away.

Will Stand Guard No More.

PROVIDENCE, March 15.—John McKeough, an eccentric ex-soldier, of Pawtucket, was killed by a Providence and Worcester train near Woodlawn while walking on the track. McKeough was accustomed to stand guard with drawn saber over the Burnside equestrian statue in Providence and would say: "I followed you at Newbern and I will not desert you now."

In Memory of His Wife.

CONCORD, N. H., March 15.—The Hon. George A. Pillsbury, of Minneapolis, ex-mayor, and for two years prior to 1880 a resident of Concord, has given $50,000 to the Concord Hospital association for a new building, to be named the Margaret Pillsbury hospital, as a memorial to his wife. Work on the new building will begin at once.

TO ADVERTISERS!

How to Get the Most Service for the Money!

The Advertiser who would be willing to pay twenty-five cents for every family who could be "educated" up to the value of his goods would thus devote $3,000,000 to educate the 12,000,000 families which make up the 60,000,000 of the United States. This sum would do the business thoroughly in a year, for it is sufficient to pay for the insertion of a full column in every issue of every publication, and for resetting the matter, making it new in every issue of each separate publication. We will receive and execute the contract.

$5,000 One of the most successful Advertisers we ever had always ordered his advertisements in this way, "Get the best service you can for me for $5,000," leaving every detail to us. We were thus enabled to say to a Publisher, if you put this in at a large reduction from your rate it will be no criterion for further transactions. It was a surprise to find ourselves so often able to contract for the insertion of that particular advertisement at half rates, in papers which would not permit us to OFFER their columns at a penny's deviation from a printed schedule. The advertising rates of one New York paper are double those of another which has twice the circulation of the first. Similar discrepancies are not uncommon. The advertisement intrusted to us to be placed in accordance with our judgment often does double service for half the money. A dollar for twenty-five cents.

$1,000 If we are given authority to insert advertisements to a limited amount, in such mediums as ofier inducements which seem to us specially favorable, we shall not abuse the confidence reposed in us, and shall render statements of whatever is done (if anything) from day to day. When TRUSTED with the placing of an advertisement, we are put upon honor, and are bound in honor to give the best service possible for the money to be used.

$500 Leading Newspapers, especially the leading Agricultural Nswspapers, frequently issue large special editions (of twenty, fifty, a hundred, or even five hundred thousand copies,) and eslicit advertisement orders from us on terms which would often be accepted by our patrons if there was time to invite attention to the matter; but the question must generally be decided before there would be time to write and receive a reply, and often the caso cannot be fully stated within the limits of a letter.

$250 Prepare a small advertisement and send with check for $250, or any other sum. The practice of asking the Agent to name his papers in advance compels him to name such as are well known, otherwise there is reason to suspect that his judgment is biased;—and the best papers do not like to have their rates quoted below their schedule.

$100 The advertiser who sends his advertisements asking for the best service possible for one hundred dollars, will often get from five to fifty per cent more service for his money, than he would had he required us to tell him in advance exactly what service we would promise; for when an estimate has been given its plan and specifications must, in a general way at least, control the advertising to be done: It ties the Agent's hands and prevents his giving his patrons TO-DAY a better service than he could have promised yesterday, because yesterday the opportunity had not presented itself: to-morrow it may have passed! Some publications are used more economically on contracts for a single issue; in others insertion for a month may be had as cheaply as for a single week but in furnishing an estimate in advance, if the Agent attempts to go into details, his correspondence becomes voluminous and the advertiser confused.

$50. If you are in the habit of occasionally inserting a small advertisement in a few papers, investing a few dollars and carefully noting the result; we desire you to make trial of our Advertising Bureau, sending us the advertisement and the money, leaving the selection of the papers to us, and judging of the service rendered by results rather than by names, circulation claims or prices. To make up careful estimates calls for much work. It don't pay to make them indiscriminately for every applicant. If such estimates as are asked for were always given the Advertiser who wished to expend $50 would frequently find himself in posession of a scheme which it would cost $500 or possibly $5,000 to carry out.

$10. We devote all necessary care to placing small orders for Advertising:—even the smallest! Time is saved by sending check with the order. Often the Advertiser is not possessed of sufficient information on the subject to enable him to judge of the merits of an estimate for advertising, and he decides by the footings of the figures whether he will or will not do the work. Yet the estimate binds the Agent and makes it improper for him to make any variation in its specifications, however much his judgment may point to material changes which ought to be made. This is specially liable to be the case when the order comes a considerable time after the estimate was made.

THEIR FEARFUL DOOM.

Twenty-five Firemen Hurled Into a Blazing Building.

TWELVE OF THEM PERISH.

Others Believed to Be Still Buried in the Ruins, and Three Little Newsboys Said to Have Been Crushed Under the Falling Walls.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 19.—One of those terrible calamities, fraught with death and horror, that casts a gloom over the community has occurred here. A fire broke out in the Bowen-Merrill Publishing company's building, and in an incredibly short time the entire structure was enveloped in flames. The firemen quickly responded to the alarm and swarmed over the building, fighting fiercely to subdue the rapidly spreading blaze. Suddenly, and with but a few moments' warning, the roof, which was filled with firemen, gave way, and there was a most appalling scene.

At the first crack the men made a frantic effort to escape to the walls and ladders, but the treacherous roof went down too quickly, and man after man was seen to throw up his hands and sink into the fiery mass until twenty-five unfortunates, with agonizing screams of terror, disappeared before the eyes of the spellbound and helpless spectators.

An Awful Scene.

Immediately after the collapse the fire was got under control, and when the work of rescue was commenced the scene that was revealed was fearful beyond telling.

The limbs of men here and there were seen writhing while the trunks to which they belonged were buried from sight. A ladder lay across three men, and was weighted down by tons of bricks and timber. Another poor fellow who was beyond all pain lay close beside his fellows, a shapeless and mangled mass. The ladder lay across the stomach of one man who was screaming with agony. Another with a broken arm and toasted body lay next to him.

As the bodies of the rescued were carried out of the ruins they were met with embraces and tears of joy, but when the still, broken forms were borne away, motionless and limp, then was when the full sadness and horror of the calamity came upon the waiting crowd.

Twenty-two bodies have so far been removed from the ruins and others are still believed to be buried in the cellar. Of those taken out ten were dead and some of the injured are likely to die.

The Killed and Wounded.

The names of the dead are:

George Faulkner, engineer No. 1 company; George Glenn, fireman No. 10; Ulysses Glazier, substitute fireman; Al Hoffman, pipeman; Sam Neal, Espey Stormer, Richard Lowrey, Charles Jenkins, Thomas Tallentine, Andrew Cherry.

Following are the wounded:

Anthony Voltz, pipeman; Lew Rafert, fireman; Thomas Barrett, fireman; A. C. Mercer, captain fire department; Thomas A. Black, pipeman; Webb Robinson, pipeman, slightly; William Partee, pipeman, internally hurt, may die; Henry Woodruff, pipeman, badly hurt; Ebenezer Leech, pipeman, cut and bruised; William Long, pipeman, slightly hurt; William Heinsley, pipeman, badly hurt; John Burkhart, pipeman, badly hurt about the head.

Dick Lowrie, pipeman, is still under the ruins, as is also Walter Jones, and it is supposed both are dead.

It was reported that three little newsboys had been standing very near the wall which collapsed, watching the actions of the firemen. If this is so, there is little hope of their being taken out alive.

A Miraculous Escape.

Thomas Dillon, superintendent of the Brush Electric Light company, and William Long had miraculous escapes. They were on the roof of the burning building cutting the electric wires when the crash came. By quick jumping both succeeded in reaching an adjoining roof and escaped injury.

"Wells" Robinson, who was rescued with a badly cut and bruised leg, gave the following account of the disaster: "I was working in the cellar when the crash came, and I was knocked down and must have lost consciousness for a moment. When I recovered I found that a piece of timber had lodged across my leg and held me fast. Estey Stormer I could hear calling for help about ten feet away. He was in a worse place than I was and he became quiet after a time. I struggled hard to get free, as it was terrible hot, and the burning timbers were all around me. I jerked my leg free at last and crawled out between the wall and ruins."

The Fire Chief Criticised.

It will take fully twenty-four hours to remove all the debris, and until that is done no estimation of the loss of life can be made. The firemen who escaped think it is possible that there may be several bodies in the cellar, as a few minutes before the crash came several men were in the rear lower floor room of the building attempting to get out some of the firm's books that had not been burned.

Fire Chief Daugherty is being severely criticised for ordering the firemen on to the building when it was in such an unsafe condition. Five minutes before the crash came the firemen were warned by citizens to leave the building, but the warning was unheeded.

A fund has already been started for the relief of the injured firemen and the families of the dead and injured. It has already reached the total of $2,000. Mayor Sullivan has issued a proclamation calling for subscriptions. The coroner is investigating and will hold an inquest.

Can Hear Voices.

Later—An army of workmen is busily engaged carting away the debris in an effort to exhume the bodies of the dead and injured buried in the ruins. The voices of several persons yet in the ruins can be plainly heard, and an excited throng of friends of the missing ones is anxiously waiting the clearing away of the piles of brick and broken timber that hold imprisoned alive or dead the missing firemen.

To Improve the Highways.

UTICA, N. Y., March 19.—The State Society for the Improvement of Highways met here for its first annual convention. The programme includes the adoption of a constitution and by-laws, the election of officers, an address by Senator Coggeshall and the possible adoption of resolutions in reference to legislation on the subject.

Judge Rice Dead.

SPOKANE FALLS, Wash., March 19.—Judge Milton L. Rice, prominent during and after the rebellion in Kentucky and Arkansas politics, and brother of ex-United States Senator Benjamin F. Rice, of Kansas, died in this city, aged 65.

FLACK'S TRIAL.

Judge Bookstaver, with a Troubled Look, Takes the Stand.

NEW YORK, March 19.—The seventh day of the Flack trial began in the court of oyer and terminer. The examination of Judge Bookstaver was taken up. The witness wore a troubled look, and it was apparent that he was nervous and ill at ease, but he answered in a straightforward, categorical manner, like that of a man who had suddenly, in desperation, concluded that he was not on trial and neither the gainer nor the loser by it.

His testimony in chief was a capitulation of his acts in the Flack divorce case. He said he had signed two orders of reference appointing Meeks referee in each case. He admitted that he did not look to see whether Meeks was the referee in each case when he signed the orders, nor did he look into the papers enough to see that Meeks had subscribed to his oath as referee, even before his appointment.

Questioned further he frankly admitted that he did not know that Meeks had already taken the testimony for which he was referee before his appointment. He frankly confessed that he had never seen Wright in court and that the only way he knew of his appearance in the case to represent Mrs. Flack was by Mr. Monell's representation.

Judge Russell moved to strike out the entire testimony of Judge Bookstaver, because it failed to connect in any way with a conspiracy either James A. Flack or his son. The motion was denied.

MORE ARRESTS.

The Investigation Into the Conduct of Sheriff Flack's Office.

NEW YORK, March 19.—The indictments charging ex-Warden Keating and Deputy Sheriff McGonigle with bribery, which were drawn under the provisions of section 72 of the penal code, were changed today to come under section 45 because of some technical discrepancies. Section 45 covers the charge of receiving a bribe more clearly. Both men subsequently renewed their bonds under the new indictments. The grand jury is still investigating the charges against the sheriff's office.

George Mindeman was arrested on an indictment charging him with extortion while employed in the sheriff's office.

Joseph Young, a deputy sheriff, was also arrested at noon, and held in $10,000 bail, for bribery.

Other arrests are expected to follow.

Almost Roasted Alive.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., March 19.—Mrs. Henry Hamer, her mother and an adopted girl were terribly burned here—Mrs. Hamer so badly that her recovery is doubtful. While Mrs. Hamer was filling a gasoline stove the oil ignited, and in an instant the curtains and carpets were in flames. Both women and the child seized the curtains, and the clothing of all three took fire. The old lady threw a shawl around the child, whose hair was nearly all burned off, and succeeded in extinguishing the flames. She then put out the fire in her own clothes by rolling on the floor, but not until her hands, face, neck and arms had been burned in many places to a crisp. Mrs. Hamer, who was heavily dressed, was powerless to help herself. Her mother finally cut off most of her clothing, but not until the woman had been almost roasted alive. Her nose was burned almost to a crisp, her neck suffered severely, and some of her nails dropped off with the flesh.

His Little Daughter Accused Him.

BEDFORD, Ia., March 19.—Henry Litzett was arrested here Tuesday and taken to Page county on the charge of murder committed about four years ago near the Page and Taylor county line. The crime was discovered by a small boy, who, while fishing, found the decomposed body of a man in the Nodaway river, tied with a rope to a stake driven in the bed of the stream. Some months later Litzett's little daughter told the neighbors that her father and two other men had killed a man in their house. The story was investigated and the grand jury of Page county recently indicted Litzett and the two men that assisted him for murder, and Litzett's wife and daughter as accessories. The other men engaged in the murder, whose names are not known here, are also under arrest.

Blew Him Up.

BUTTE, Mont., March 19.—An attempt was made here to take the life of J. V. Skidmore, by blowing him up with giant powder. Skidmore last fall jumped a claim and built a cabin, which he now occupies. He was absent from the cabin a few minutes yesterday morning and when he again entered an explosion took place, which knocked him senseless, killed his dog, knocked a hole through the roof and floor of the cabin and shattered things generally. Skidmore's face was lacerated by two pieces of iron, one of his legs was a mass of wounds and the other was also injured. It is supposed an enemy put a can of giant powder in the cabin during Skidmore's temporary absence and ignited a slow fuse.

Boot and Shoe Dealers in Trouble.

BOSTON, March 19.—The firm of Ballance & Sorrel, consisting of William P. Ballance, of Boston; James W. Ballance, of New York, and James M. Dunwoody, of Macon, Ga., boot and shoe dealers and manufacturers, No. 24 Lincoln street, has been petitioned into insolvency in the Suffolk county court by Thayer, Owen & Thayer, dealers in finished leather, No. 103 South street, and a special warrant and injunction has been issued by the court, but it is said the resident parties here are not to be found on which to serve the warrant, although the stock of the firm is under attachment.

Insensible from Smoke.

ASHLAND, Wis., March 19.—Fire has been raging in the West Vulcan mine, near Norway, since Friday. Estimated loss to date, $30,000. A party of five miners were almost frozen to death, being unable to get out or to leave the bottom of the new shaft on account of the smoke. Superintendent Kelly, Capt. Bond and party were taken out insensible from smoke.

WASHINGTON EVENTS.

The World's Fair Bill Ready for Action by the House.

MUST SHOW TEN MILLIONS

The President Will Have to Be Satisfied That Chicago Has That Amount Before He Can Approve the Measure—A Republican Caucus.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Mr. Wilson, of West Virginia, who was one of the Washington representatives on the World's fair committee, was present when the committee met this morning to consider the Chicago bill, and as a consequence the deadlock that has existed in the committee was broken, and the fifth section of the bill providing for the financial scheme on which the fair shall be conducted was passed.

The members of the committee present were Messrs. Candler (chairman), Hitt and Springer, of Illinois; Wilson, of West Virginia; Belden, of New York, and Hatch, of Missouri.

Must Have Ten Millions.

The amendment offered by Mr. Belden providing for a financial plan was voted down, and Mr. Wilson offered as a substitute for the fifth section an amendment providing that when the president is satisfied that Chicago has raised or provided a fund of $10,000,000 he shall issue his proclamation in regard to the fair, and inviting foreign nations to participate.

Messrs. Candler, Hitt, Springer and Wilson voted for this, and the amendment was carried. This completed the bill, and Mr. Candler, the chairman, was instructed to report it to the house and to call it up for consideration at the earliest possible date.

A Republican Caucus.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—A caucus of Republican senators has been called to take place at the residence of Senator Edmunds.

Its object is to consider charges made against the sergeant-at-arms of the senate, W. P. Canaday.

Mr. Canaday is from North Carolina. He has been a protege of Senator Sherman for a number of years.

Recently a determined effort has been made to have him removed from his office to make room for a candidate of Senator Quay—Mr. Bailey—and this effort is expected to culminate at the caucus to-night.

Mr. Canaday had a long conversation with Senator Edmunds yesterday afternoon, the result of which is not known.

Senator Jones on the Silver Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Senator Jones, of Nevada, who reported to the senate the finance committee's silver bill, has been engaged in discussing it with individual members of the senate, and from the consensus of opinion as expressed in private conversation he has come to the conclusion that there is a large majority of the senate in favor of increasing the volume of the currency in the line of the finance committee's bill.

"It would be impossible to say what modifications may be offered and accepted in debate," said Mr. Jones to a reporter of the United Press today. "The will develop as the debate progresses.

"It will be some time before the bill will come to a final consideration, but that there will be legislation on the subject at the next session of congress, I think there is no doubt. If a vote should be taken on the finance committee's measure as it stands today, I think there would be a large majority of the senate in favor of it."

In the House.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—The house adopted a resolution calling on the secretary of war and secretary of the interior for information as to whether a saving of expenditure would be effected by the transfer of the pension bureau to the war department.

The Ball Players.

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 19.—The players of the New York and Boston Brotherhood clubs arrived here in excellent condition and spirits. The first day on the water was exceedingly rough, and O'Rourke, Madden, Daley, Dan Richardson and Arthur Irwin were awfully sick. Whitney and Slattery came by rail. O'Day arrived Saturday night. The Bostons found Nash, Quinn and Gumbert at the De Soto hotel ahead of them. Tom Brown and Swett will arrive to-morrow. The weather is delicious and very favorable for practice.

BRIEF MENTION.

In the house of representatives the bill transferring the revenue marine service from the treasury to the navy department was passed, as was one appropriating $100,000 to secure a census enumeration of the Chinese in the United States.

John McCrosland, aged 80, once a candidate for congress, was sent to jail at Pottsville, Pa., in default of six cents fine and costs, for assault and battery on a young man whom he claimed owed him $72. He refused to allow his friends to assist him.

Six brigands captured Baron Zurlo and his son near Catania, Italy, held his son as a hostage and sent the father to seek a ransom of $20,000. The baron scraped together $9,200, and the brigands thereupon released the son.

It is believed in Woodstock, Ont., where Burchall, the young Englishman, is held on a charge of murdering Benwell, that he has a double and will have no difficulty in proving an alibi.

John A. Davis, ex-city treasurer of Rochester, N. Y., was indicted on a charge of embezzling $60,777.13 of the city's funds and admitted to bail in $20,000.

Daniel M. Fox, ex-mayor of Philadelphia, was stricken with apoplexy at Atlantic City last Thursday, and is now believed to be dying.

John L. Sullivan has gained his appeal before the Mississippi supreme court, but is held for trial in Marion county, where the fight took place.

Oscar Hill, a farmer of Clay county, Ala., died of hydrophobia caused by the bite of a colored farm hand, with whom he quarreled.

The World's fair committee decided by a majority vote that the celebration must be held in 1892, as originally intended.

The striking dockmen in Liverpool became so riotous that it was found necessary to call out the military.

Fourth class Pennsylvania postmasters appointed are C. F. Kramser, Glenmore, and J. C. Rogers, Sheshequin.

THE M'CALLA INQUIRY.

Move of the Methods of the Officers Brought to Light.

BROOKLYN, March 19.—Jeremiah Shea, a second class fireman, the first man of the complainants against Commander McCalla, was the first witness this morning.

Shea said that at Cronstadt when the men went ashore for target practice he happened to come aboard an hour and a half behind the others. Lieut. Ingersoll said that he was drunk. Shea denied it and Ingersoll ordered that he toe the seam on the quarter deck until 4 o'clock in the morning. It was then afternoon.

"I toed the seam until 1 o'clock in the morning," said Shea, "and then I could not stand it any longer. I leaned against a gun, and Lieut. Mulligan saw me and ordered me put in double irons and tied to the ring bolt."

At this juncture Lieut. Mulligan was called in to listen to the testimony he was concerned in.

"I was kept there until 4 o'clock," resumed Shea, "and next day was chained to other men and made to toe the seam again. This was kept up for seven days. We were deprived of our hammocks and were compelled to eat with our irons on."

Lawyer Menzies tried to make witness admit that he was drunk when he came on board, but Shea stoutly denied it.

"You were ordered to stand up. Why did you disobey?" asked the lawyer.

"I could not obey. I was too tired to stand up."

"By whom were you tied up?" put in Admiral Kimberly.

"By Lieut Mulligan and the corporal of the guard, Russell."

"Why did you disobey orders?"

"I could not stand up, sir. I had been ashore at Cronstadt all day and then was compelled to toe the seam all night. It was too much, sir."

"You were deprived of your hammocks, you say?"

"Yes, sir, for seven days. We were compelled to lie on the decks."

Lieut. Mulligan was questioned by the admiral, but he denied any knowledge of the occurrence.

Michael Murphy, coal heaver, corroborated Shea's statement to the effect that he was tied up when he complained that he was unable to stand.

Michael F. Keavy, second class fireman, also a complainant against McCalla, was called.

"Yes, sir," he said. "I saw him triced up in the port gangway, with a half hitch around his waist. He was leaning against the gun when Lieut. Mulligan ordered him triced up.

"Was he drunk or sober?" asked Menzies.

"He was sober."

"What caused you to remember the date, July 29, so accurately?"

"Because I was sober, and we frequently talked about men being triced up, gagged and so on. I made a memorandum of the date and sent it home, trying to get my discharge."

J. W. Bitner, first class fireman, was also one of the party that was late.

"I was called before the mast, sir, and Lieut. Ingersoll said, 'You are drunk.'

"'I am not,' I said. I appealed to Lieut. Mulligan, who was coming aft, and he corroborated me.

"'You're a liar,' said Lieut. Ingersoll, and then I was set to toeing the seam."

Bitner told the same story that Shea did about the night he passed on the quarter-deck.

A Medley From Milesburg.

Our accommodating landlord, A. A Kohlbecker, is about to equip his hotel with electric bells. Mr. K. is always looking forward to the accommodations of his guests.

Judging by the number of trains that pass over the Bald Eagle Valley railroad daily business is on the increase. There is some talk of laying a double track on the road during the coming summer.

M E Holmes is selling off his stock of dry goods and groceries at cost. Mr. H. has been a successful merchant for over thirty years and will now retire from the cares of storekeeping.

Mr. Lew Wallace is home from Johnstown again. It is said that it is his intention to start the brick yard formerly operated by his father. Mr. Wallace's reputation as a brickmaker stands unrivaled.

Our depot is being repainted and papered inside. When finished it will present a noble appearance. Thirty years ago last month it was papered, and now it presented the appearance of an old barracks. Much credit is due station agent, C P Stonerode, in his endeavors to keep it clean.

Joseph Snyder, agent at Snow Shoe Intersection, will move into the Mark's property on the first of April. The house is being repainted.

Miles & Son have had new glass put in the front windows of their store.

Frank Miller is at present lying very low with typhoid fever at his home near the lime kiln. We hope to hear of his speedy recovery.

Our street lamps are blown out every night at 10 o'clock and persons attending the protracted meeting at the Methodist church are obliged to feel their way home in the dark. The scarcity of oil is supposed to be the cause of the early extinguishing.

Miss Bertha Swires will depart for Philadelphia the latter part of this week where, in the future, she will make her home with her guardian, J Sperry Thomas, a prominent physician of 2022 Arch street. We would advise C W to use a little balm of Gilead for his wounded affections.

The boys still persist in jumping on and off moving trains around the depot. The horrible accident that happened on December 11th, 1889 should be a warning to them. It seems, however, that the daily attendance of loafers is on the increase.

H. I. Bouse, our druggist, is gaining a wide reputation as an elocutionist, judging from the way he was "prescribing" an argument for Dr. Church on Saturday.

Mr. E. C. Poorman has recovered from his recent illness and is now to be seen on our streets once again.

Constable James Haines had with him one of the men who is supposed to be one of the burglars who robbed Budinger's store at Snow Shoe a few nights ago.

[We would be very glad to have the above correspondent favor us with regular contributions.—Ed.]

Howard Happenings.

The latest thing out in Howard is the new way of advertising. Be careful, young ladies, how you publish things hereafter.

Sheriff Cooke was in Howard on Wednesday. We were all glad to see him and have the privilege of grasping his welcome hand.

Mr. K. G. Shutt has abandoned his mill in Howard and taken his boiler to Marsh Creek where he intends to use it on the mill erected about one year ago.

Business is rather dull at present but the prospects for the coming summer look favorable.

The entertainment held in Lucas hall on Saturday evening was a success in every respect.

The protracted meeting, that has been in progress in the M. E. church, at this place, for several weeks, closed on Sunday evening. Quite a number of persons were converted during these services and the church in general greatly revived.

Rev. Geo. E. King, who has served as pastor of the M. E. church here for the past two years, preached his last sermon before conference on Sunday evening. The text was: "Go forward." The discourse was appropriate and full of instruction for old and young. The people of Howard desire brother King's return, as he is a fine preacher.

Peterson's Magazine.

Peterson for April offers special attractions for ladies. The colored fashion plate and other engravings show the newest and most effective spring styles. Mrs. Lucy H. Hooper's Paris letter gives full information in regard to the latest French Fashions. By the aid of "Peterson" any lady can prepare her own and her children's wardrobes at far less expense than by any other means. The other departments of the magazine are at their very best, and cannot be surpassed by any periodical. The steel engraving of Qeen Louise, of Prussia, and her Sons, is not only a beautiful picture, but especially valuable for giving the portrait of the late Emperor William when a lad of ten. Miss Alice Bowman's serial, "The Story of Dagma," is so far the best novelet we have met in any magazine this year. It is no wonder that "Peterson" preserves its popularity. Its fiction, historical sketches, fashions, music and household suggestions exactly meet home needs. Terms $2.00 a year. Address, Peterson's Magazine, 306 Chestnut St., Philadelphia.

Communion Wine.

Physicians who have used Speer's Port Grape Wine, of New Jersey, and have applied to it the strictest test, pronounce it strictly pure and rich in body and recommend it to the aged and infirm, and for general use where wine is desirable, as the most reliable of wines to be had. Mr. Speer also preserves the grape Juice fresh and sweet just as it runs from the press, not by the use of spirits, but by electricity extracting the fermenting principles from the ripe grapes when mashed; it is called Speer's Unfermented Grape Juice. Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the sympathetic effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind.

Distress After Eating

Sick Headache

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla—took three bottles. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." Huntingdon's Union Depot Damaged by Fire.

Special to the TRIBUNE.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., March 16.—About 6 o'clock this morning flames were noticed issuing from the basement of the Union depot and in a short time they had communicated to every portion of the building. The fire department responded promptly but, owing to the flames following along the joists and inside the partitions, but little could be done in the way of getting control of the fire. This was not accomplished until every room in the building had been completely gutted. The Union News company's booth was also badly damaged. The flames are supposed to have originated in the basement from the furnace pipes, but the exact location has not yet been ascertained. The loss is estimated at $4,500; fully insured.

"When we two parted, I felt that I had taken cold," said Thomas Takeintime, "and next morning I was hoarse indeed. But a 25 cent bottle of Dr. Bulls Cough syrup fixed me up."

Contentious women are slaves to headache: but twenty-five cents spent for a bottle of Salvation Oil will restore harmony in the household.

Hard on the Women

If a husband is worth having he is worth taking care of—sent in by an absurd man.

Marriage with a man, is like the month of March. If he goes in like a lion he never fails to come out like a lamb.

When the women get together they abuse the men, but it is to the credit of the men that when they get together they do not abuse the women.

There are only two kinds of women; one kind thinks her husband the greatest man in the world, and the other thinks she is a greater man than her husband.

Give an extravagant woman all the money she can spend and the harm she does is not to herself, but to the foolish women who try to keep up with her.

One Man Caught.

District Attorney Meyer went to Snow Shoe on Saturday to see what evidence was against a man named Davis who had been arrested as one of the parties who broke into and robbed Budinger's store. It was proven that Davis, who is a miner, was one of the parties who did a similar thing last November, and the evidence against him as being implicated this time was pretty strong. He was held for trial and brought to this place and lodged in jail. The authorities are still searching for other suspects.

Words of Advice.

To those who require a stimulent. There are many to whom we could recommend you: We think there are just as many honest Liquor dealers as there are dealers in any other class of merchans dise, and again we believe that there are many who sell whiskey or any other commodity, who are not reliable. We have noticed that our best physicians and superintendents of hospitals have by there testimonials highly recommended Klein's Silver Age Rye therefore we say his is the place to which we would advise every one to go. He sells six years old Guckenheimer, Finch, Gibson, or Overholt for $1 per full quart or six quarts for $5. Wines, Brandies, and Gins cheap as the cheapest. THE President has issued a proclamation warning intending settlers to keep off the Cherokee strip in the Indiana territory, which many people seem under the impression was opened to settlement by the passage of the Oklahoma Bill. A commission is now negotiating with the Cherokee Indians for these lands, and it is probable that they will be open to settlement in the near future, but they are not open now.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is on the flood tide of popularity, which position it has reached by its own intrinsic, undoubted merit.

—The Harrisburg Call says that Mayor Fritchey has issued orders to the police to arrest every person heard using profane language on the streets. There is no lack of material in Bellefonte and if the order was enforced by the police, the Borough treasury would be enriched for the law provides a fine of 67 cents for each arrest.

—Williamsporters are trying to induce their Council to pass an ordinance to compel the keeping of streets clean. How would such a thing take in Bellefonte? The citizens of this place should have pride enough to go ahead and enforce the cleaning of the streets. Let some one start the ball a rollin'.

—We are informed that the property belonging to Mr. H K Hicks, on East Linn street, has been purchased by Mr. Curtin.

—How quietly it came. Nobody knew it was coming until it was here. It came as noiseless as a theif in the dead hour of midnight—the snow.

—Republicans all over the county should attend the primaries to elect delegates to the county convention on March 31st. This is very important.

In the Spring

The feeling of lassitude peculiar to the season begins to be felt. The average stock of vitality has been pretty thoroughly exhausted in carrying its possessor through the rigors and changes of the trying winter, and as the more genial season approaches and the strain upon the system relaxes a feeling of prostration, more or less pronounced in degree and duration, is the natural and inevitable result. During the existence of this feeling of lassitude and depression, business cares and exertions seem almost impossible of endurance, and even the lightest duties and responsibilities of life are regarded as a burden to be shirked or disregarded to the greatest possible extent.

If You are Wise

To devise some preparation to counteract this tired feeling and restore the system to something like a normal condition has been the endeavor of many people more or less skilled in medical science, and countless concoctions under the general title of "spring medicine" have been placed upon the market, had a brief boon and then been lost sight of, to be succeeded by some other similar preparation. The principal ingredient in most of the spring "bitters," "tonics," etc., alcohol, the effect of which upon the human system has been sufficiently dwelt upon through various public mediums to render any extended reference to the same unnecessary here. The temporary feeling of strength and exhileration produced by this active agent is as certainly followed by a greater degree of depression, while the results of continued indulgence are a permanent impairment of the vital organs—the heart, kidneys, liver and brain.

The facts of the case are that you have been living upon meat and other fatty substances to a greater extent than at any other time of the year; the pores of the skin have been closed, and upon the kidneys and liver have devolved all the work of keeping the system clear. But now summer is at hand, and these organs cannot keep up the drain. The pores of the skin must be open, else disease will step in and throw you upon a bed of sickness. If the pores be but partly open, then you are languid, lazy and ill at ease. You want a spring cleaning process within yourself, and then you will be filled with vigor and a zest for work and business. You can have all accomplished by the use of March Weather.

Everybody abuses March weather, but just why we can not tell, as there is certainly no monotory about it.

In March we are continually blessed with mud, fog, rain, snow, high winds, small cyclones, blizzards, freckles, delayed trains, on which there is an important letter, and, in fact, we have a whole year of weather—the four seasons—crowded into the thirty-one days of March. But there is more than this that March has to take the blame for.

In March the thrifty housewife is already contemplating house cleaning and, naturally, lies awake nights laying her plans for squeezing the money for a new sitting-room carpet out of her helpless and innocently snoring partner.

In March most of the peach buds are ruined by the cold weather, and we know that next summer peaches will be very scarce and high, as usual. Also the fact that there will be very little ice this year becomes assured in March.

Last year's maple sugar, warmed over with the bottom of sundry molassas casks, now appears in market labeled "Fine Maple sugar—this year's run."

Horses are shedding their old hairs and every person that happens near one is plastered with them. Somebody heard a robin and somebody else thinks he saw a blue bird. The base ball grounds are being cleaned up. Pansies and snow drops appear in sunny places. The wind blows, and new developments in skirts and hosierie may be looked for. La grippe is a thing of the past, but bad colds are to be found everywhere. The backbone of winter is broken and we are now waiting to hail beautiful spring.

Atlantic City and the Pennsylvania Railroad's Facilities for Reaching it.

Atlantic City occupies a unique position in the seaside resorts of America. From a distinctively summer resort, of which not many years ago daily excursionists were the predominating patrons, it has developed into a great seaside city, whose gates are open throughout the year, and whose hotels entertain the winter seeker after quiet and rest with as much comfort as they afford the hosts of summer on pleasure bent.

Nothing has contributed so much to this development as the magnificent transportation facilities which the city possesses through the liberality and enterprise of the Pennsylvania Railroad. Not content with a single line in the West Jersey road to Atlantic City, the Pennsylvania Railroad, with that unerring foresight which is a marked characteristic of its management, some years ago secured control of the Camden and Atlantic line also, so that it now practically operates a double-tracked roadway between Philadelphia and its great seaside suburb. Both of these lines are in splendid conditionon. The roadbeds are laid with steel rails and ballasted; the block signal system controls the running of trains; and track tanks placed between the rails obviate the necessity of stoppages for water. The very highest rate of speed consistent with safety and good management is maintained, and year by year the schedule time is reduced. With the improvements and betterments of the present winter and spring, a further reduction will be made for the approaching season.

The equipment of the lines are exceptionally good. Commodious and cheery passenger coaches have replaced the old boxes of the past, and specially built parlor cars afford any additional ease or luxury one could demand. Standard hard coal-burning locomotives of the pattern which has given the Pennsylvania Railroad locomotive a world wide fame, are used on the fast trains, and every detail, both of management and equipment, is accorded as much consideration on these lines as on the other divisions of the Pennsylvania system.

Possessing such abundant resources, with its improved and renovated station at Atlantic City, and the great excursion house, located on the choicest portion of the beach, the Pennsylvania Railroad's facilities for successfully handling the enormous volume of its summer business are superior in every respect. This applies to every class of passengers, and the advantageous location of its stations in Philadelphia makes it apply equally as strongly to the residents of other sections as to the people of Philadelphia.

A Bill to Extend the Free Delivery System.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That letter carriers shall be employed for the free delivery of mail matter, as frequently as the public business may require, at every incorporated city, village, or borough containing a population of fifty thousand within its corporate limits; and may be so employed at every place containing a population of not less than five thousand within its corporate limits, according to the last general census, taken by authority of state or United States law, or at any post office which produced a gross revenue for the preceding fiscal year of not less than seven thousand dollars; Provided, That this act shall not effect the existence of the free delivery in places where it is now established: And provided further, That in offices where the free delivery shall be established under the provisions of this act, such free delivery shall not be abolished by reason of decrease below five thousand in population, or seven thousand dollars in gross postal revenue, except in the discretion of the Postmaster-General.

SEC. 2. That there may be in all cities which contain a population of seventy-five thousand or more three classes of letter carriers, as follows: Carriers of the first class, whose salaries shall be one thousand dollars per annum; of the second class, whose salaries shall be eight hundred dollars per annum; and of the third class, whose salaries shall be six hundred dollars per annum: Provided, That the Postmaster-General may, and he is hereby, authorized to appoint, whenever he may deem it for the interest of the service, one or more persons at any free-delivery office, who shall be known as "Collectors," to perform collection service only, at a salary of six hundred dollars per annum, which salary shall not be increased by promotion as in case of carriers, and who shall not be subject to examination under the rules of the Civil Service Commission.

SEC. 3. That in places containing a population of less than seventy-five thousand there may be two classes of letter carriers, as follows: Carriers of the second class, whose salaries shall be eight hundred and fifty dollars per annum, and of the third class, whose salaries shall be six hundred dollars per annum.

SEC. 4. That all laws inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

The First Step.

Altoona's Public Building.

Thus remarks the Harrisburg Telegraph; Senator Cameron has written to Hon. A P MacDonald, at Altoona, that he will endeavor to have Altoona's public building bill expedited as much as possible, and that he will personally speak to Senator Stanford, the chairman of the committee, about it. It looks very much from this as if Altoona will soon revel in the luxury of a public building as is a public building, for Senator Cameron generally pushes things when he takes hold. Gossip congratulates Altoona on the bright outlook, and predicts that if the Mountain City secures as fine a public building as has been erected in Harrisburg, its citizens will be very well satisfied.

—Col. W. H. Wilkinson recently purchased the Graham lot on Allegheny street and on Thursday morning he and David Bartly staked out the foundation for a house. From what we have been able to learn the house will be a Queen Anne and very tasty and handsome in appearance. When Col. J. L. Spangler gets his house remodeled and fixed up, as he will soon do, that neighborhood will present a remarkably nice appearance. And what a military bearing it will have, with Gen. Hastings, Col' Wilkinson and Col. Spangler, it will only need the addition of a few privates to make it a whole regiment in itself.

—It is hardly to be supposed that all the letters, books and papers now published and accredited to Alfred Andrews are entirely as he writes them even, admitting that he writes them at all. There is too much difference and diversion in the numerous letters, and they are so vastly different from his sentiments, that it is easily to see that they are either manufactured or else, so much edited as to change the entire meaning and purport of them, —The democratic papers of this county, and some in other counties, have told lies enough about Sheriff Cooke, in the past few weeks, to pave one of the longest streets of hades. Ever since Alfred Andrews has been convicted and sentenced to death, by order of the Court, there have been no persons admitted to his cell but his keepers, spiritual adviser and friends, and the democratic papers all know this, but still preach to their readers otherwise.

Waked up Effectually.

A lethargic, dormant condition of the liver is hardly to be overcome with drastic cathartics and nauseous cholagogues. A gentler, pleasanter and far more effective means exists of arousing the organ when somnolent. This is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, vouched for by the medical fraternity, tested by the public for many years. A resumption by the billary organ of its secretive function, with the activity attendant up on health, a return to regularity of the bowels, and a renewal of digestion, are the no less happy and certain results of using the Bitters systematically. Its laxative effective is never painful and drenching, its tendency being rather to perpetuate regularity than to produce a copious action. Malaria, nervousness debility, kidney troubles and neuralgia it subdues effectually.

—Mrs. Samuel Aults, formerly of Tyrone, but later of this place, died at her home here on Thursday morning. She leaves three small children and her husband to survive her. The remains were taken to Tyrone and buried in the cemetery at that place Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mr. McCalmont has been laid up for a week or more with sciatica, Mr. Frank Graw, the book-keeper, has catarrh fever, and Mr. Shortlidge is suffering from a very severe cold. All in all it has narrowed down the working force of that establishment to a narrow margin.

—The pall bearers at the funeral of Mr. John Brachbill, which was held at his late residence on Spring street on Thursday morning at 11 o'clock, were Col. George Bayard, James H. Rankin, D. F. Fortney, Robert McKnight, Jared Harper and John B. Linn. Rev. Wm. Laurie, D, D., officiated.

They represent a total of 6,647 probationers, 43,979 members, 137 local preachers, 501 churches, valued at $1,976,025; 139 parsonages, valued at $3a2,100, and the present debt is $166,-290. There are 539 Sunday schools, 7,987 teachers and officers, and 59,796 scholars. The churches gave $38,880 to missions, and $183,230 to ministerial support.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

The undersigned, having been restored to health by simple means, after suffering for several years with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease "Consumption," is anxious to make known to his fellow sufferers the means of cure. To those who desire it, he will cheerfully send (free of charge) a copy of the prescription used, which they will find a sure cure for Consumption, Asthma, Catarrh, Bronchitis and all throat and lung Maladies. He hopes all sufferers will try his Remedy, as it is invaluable. Those desiring the prescription, which will cost them nothing and may prove a blessing, will please address, REV. EDWARD A. WILSON, Williamsburg, Kings County, New York.

The breath of a chronic catarrh patient is often so offensive that he becomes an object of disgust. After a time ulceration sets in, the spongy bones are attacked and frequently entirely destroyed. A constant source of discomfort is the dripping of the purulent secretions into the throat, sometimes producing inveterate bronchitis, which in its turn has been the exciting cause of pulmonary disease. The brilliant results which have attended its use for years past properly designate Ely's Cream Balm as by far the best and only cure. 2 w

How often we hear middle-aged people say regarding that reliable old cough remedy, N. H. Downs' Elixir: "Why, my mother gave it to me when I was a child, and I use it in my family; it always cures." It is always guaranteed to cure or money refunded.

VDDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS

The seasons have grown so contrary
We can't understand them at all;
So often the weather doth vary
It drives our poor wits to the wall;
Defying all rules and all reasons,
Time shows how erratic its powers,
And gives us a hodge-podge of seasons,
All crammed into twenty-four hours.

—This is very delightful weather, isn't it?

—There was an abundance of slush and mud on Friday.

—Two more "for rent" ads. in to-day's paper. See advertising column.

—Considerable ice is being shipped to Bellefonte and stored away for summer use.

—A car load of ice arrived in Bellefonte on Wednesday consigned to Beezer brothers.

—ExJudge Orvis continues slowly to improve under the new treatment he is now receiving.

—Master Harry Smith, one of the DAILY NEWS carrier boys, is laid up with a very severe cold.

—The robbers who broke into T B Budinger's store got almost $1500 in cash, checks and notes.

—Henry O'Neal, of Unionville, has been granted a reissue of pension, This will make Henry happy.

—Mrs. C. H. Beates and son, Harmon, and Miss Jennie Beates, of Pine Glen, are visiting friends in Lock Haven.

—We are sorry to record the illness of Mr. Jonathan Harper. Hope he will soon be able to be around again.

—Mr. W. T. Speer has purchased the neat residence on High street, recently erected and occupied by Mr. Andrew Bell.

—The treasury of Lycoming county is penniless. Last June's flood did it. It will now have to go into the borrowing business.

—The bride and groom, Dr. J. E. Ward and wife returned on Thursday evening from their wedding tour and are now in Bellefonte.

—We are sorry to hear that Mr. Geo White, the Bush House night watchman, has been sick for several days. Hope he will soon recover.

—This is a nice day to travel and many persons took advantage of the occasion as was demonstrated by the number of passengers on the morning trains.

—It is claimed that the weight of the world has been found to be 5,874,000,000,000,000,000,000 tons, and still some people will continue to 'want the earth.

—Messrs. G. L. Potter, of Bellefonte, and H. P. Armsby, of State College, were two Centre county citizens registered at the Park Hotel, Williamsport, on Thursday.

—More than a month yet till the trout season opens. Then those who have been talking about the winter will have an opportunity to enlarge on their story telling.

—It is said that there will soon be money enough collected to erect the proposed monument over Clara Price and that the marble shaft will be raised in less than a month.

—If any of our lady readers are not already acquainted with that pioneer of domestic journals, The Household, they would do well to try it four months for only fifteen cents. It is published a Brattleboro, Vt.

—Col. W H Mayer, proprietor of the Market House furniture store, Lock Haven, has been awarded the contract of supplying one hundred and sixty-two suits of bed room furniture for the new Normal School building.

—Citizens of Huntingdon county are vigorously circulating remonstrances against the granting of the four licenses applied for in that county. They seem to be intensely earnest in their opposition to the selling of "fire water" in that county.

—Bob Burdette gets down to the rock bottom facts in the premises when he says: "God wasted mud when he made the man so mean as to tell the postmaster to return a newspaper marked "Refused," when he owes two or three years' subscription.

—We would like to know who is editing a certain paper in Bellefonte. On one page it gives an article complimenting the sermon of Dr. Laurie last Sunday and on another page it pours hot shot into him with avengeance, Verily it does seem funny.

—Mrs. George Bostley and family have moved from their late residence on Bishop street to Williamsport. The death of Mr. Bostley, which occurred not long ago was a sad blow to the family and they concluded to remove to Williamsport where all their friends reside.

—The rope with which Alfred Andrews will be hanged on April 9th has been ordered and will soon be in Bellefonte. It may be of interest to our readers to know that all such ropes are furnished the county free and this one by Edwin Fitler & Co., of Philadelphia.

—At the last meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Board of Directors a resolution was passed permitting young ladies who hold gymnasium tickets admittance to that institution on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays, between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock.

IT CAN'T BE TRUE.

As Declared in the Following Story That A Bellefonte Young Man Rode from Williamsport Home on the Same Car with a Bellefonte Young Lady and Din't Talk with Her.

[This story should have been published on Tuesday but it was not received until this morning.]

MR. EDITOR:

At Williamsport a Bellefonte young lady stepped aboard the same car I was in, recognized me then took a seat nearly opposite. Now I think if I'd known enough I should have stepped over and asked her if I might take the seat beside her for a few moments. I might then have asked her if she remembered the Quaker meeting in a Presbyterian chapel, and have asked her if she was not a member of the Bellefonte Presbyterian church, and she! well, she would probably have told me her name; I might have asked if she was at Williamsport often and she would probably have told me that she visits relatives there, and then told me their names. I might have remarked that it was the first time that I had been through that way but that there were two or three times during the past year when I would have liked to been there, I'd appreciated being about there with a boat at the time of the flood and again when the meeting of the Williamsport District Y. M. C. A. convention was held there a week ago.

Then I could have said that I was a member of the Bellefonte association and proved it by showing her my card of membership. I might then have excused myself soon so as not to have been tiresome by saying, as the train was leaving some station, "that it isn't very satisfactory to talk when the train is going because of the noise of the cars."

Soon, however, she took a seat further back, on the river side of the car. As I did not speak while she sat near me I should have gone where she was and remarked: "You are from Bellefonte, are you not?" and have asked if I might take a seat beside her for a few minutes if she had said "No!" I might have said "good for you," if I have made a mistake. But if granted the privilege I might have remarked that I always thought the river side of a car the most pleasant; "don't you?" and wouldn't it have been a thrilling pleasure for some one to have taken a boat, canoe or a skiff, at Bellefonte, and rode around this way to Lewisburg and, for that matter, on down to Baltimore, in that June flood. Well, while we are thinking what an exciting pleasure such a trip would be, I want to say that this little visit with you has, with me, just such a stimulating and thrilling effect.

As I did not know enough to speak before we left the river I should, even as near Bellefonte as Milesburg, have gone to her, Y M C A card in hand, and asked been sitting and had hurried to leave the car as soon as the train stopped—in order, you know, not to be in her way. But I did not know enough or I would, even then, have spoken to her and said: "Right or wrong, I think that I have made a great mistake in not having spoken to you during this entire journey. Allow me, however, to say that I hope you much joy on your return to Bellefonte and now, unless you would like my company as far as the post office. I will step into the depot a minute.

The following lines in the next day's issue of the DAILY NEWS, under "Little Locals," is hereby, on general principles, acdnowledged as good, and suggested the preparation, for publication, of the above practical story of a trip.

"If you have a girl and want to marry 'er,
And lack of pluck is the only barrier;
I would make this mild suggestion—
Shoot yourself or pop the question."

Another Centre County Citizen Rewarded According to His Merits.

Many of our citizens will be glad to learn that a former citizen of Bellefonte, Mr. Joseph Schnell, has been appointed a Supervisor of census for the ninth district of the State of New York, with head quarters at Binghampton. Prior to the war Mr. Schnell was an employee of F P Green as druggist and telegraph operator. When the war broke out Mr. Schnell enlisted in the army and served during the war. We copy the following from the Binghampton Republican.

"Joseph Schnell, the popular druggist, who was recently appointed Supervisor of Census for the Ninth district, received his commission from Washington Saturday. The same mail also brought him a communication, notifying him that he had been appointed Aide de Camp on the staff of ex-Governor Alger of Michigan, Grand Commander of the National G. A. R. Honors are crowding thick and fast upon Mr. Schnell and the best of it is, he deserves them. The honor conferred upon him by Gen. Alger will be appreciated by his comrades in this section.

Mr. Schnell is already realizing what it is to be an office holder. The Ninth census district comprises the counties of Allegany, Broome, Chemung, Chenango, Cortland, Schuyler, Stuben. Tioga and Tompkins, and from divers persons in all these counties, he is daily receiving petitions. Half his time is now taken up in examining and filing these, About two hundred and fifty enumerators will be appointed in this district but no appointments will be made until the district is subdivided."

A Shocking Accident.

Last Saturday as Conductor Russell was backing a loaded coal train out of Pardee switch, the conductor, who was standing on the rear car, saw a party of little children playing on a culvert. He shouted to them to get off the track, and they all ran except one little child, who could not get down, but becoming frightened, sat down on the ties, and leaning its head on its arms, on the rail, began to cry. The train was under full headway and could not stop, and in consequence, ran over the little child. Its head and arms were completely severed from its body, the body rolling on one side of the rail and the head and arms on the other side. The unfortunate child was a little boy aged about five years, whose parents are named Stokes. No blame can be attached to Conductor Russell, as he could not possibly stop his train, which was a heavy one running very fast. It is an awful warning to parents living near the railroad, to keep their children away from the track—Ledger.

Unionville Items.

We have just passed through a few days of the most severe weather of this winter, The mercury has been ranging from 45 degrees above zero to 20 degrees below that point. Eight inches of snow was on the ground at one time but now (the 12th) it is nearly gone and rain is falling.

Most of our citizens who have ice houses to fill were ready to embrace the first opportunity to get ice, and filled their houses Saturday and Monday with a nice quality of ice from three to four inches thick.

Daniel Hall, our enterprising blacksmith, has had a heater put in his house, so he will be able to keep all parts of his house comfortable when a cold winter comes.

T E Greist, the merchant who is always looking out for the comfort and convenience of his household, is now making additional improvements to his residence.

Fifth Regiment Inspection.

General order No. 1 has been issued from the headquarters of the Second Brigade, by order of Brigadier General Wiley, in which the dates for the semi-annual inspections of the companies in the Brigade are set forth. These inspections will take place in the respective armories and commandants will parade their companies in heavy marching order. The dates for the inspection of the companies of the Fifth regiment are: Company D. Blairsville—April 29, 8 p. m; company F, Indiana—April 28, 8 p. m; company H, Johnstown—April 22, 8 p. m; company C, Hollidaysburg—April 24, 8 p. m; company G, Lewistown—April 22, 8 p. m, company A, Huntingdon—April 23, 2 p. m; company I, Bedford—April 23, 8 p. m; company B, Bellefonte—April 21, 8 p. m.

Is Not Correct.

To Editor of Daily News:—

The Editorial in the Keystone Gazette of this date, relative to the sermon of Dr. Laurie of last Sunday morning, says: "He (Dr. Laurie) clearly fails in having the indorsements of his own church members on his sermon."—

The writer hereof desires to say, in all fairness, that the above assertion is not correct,—and will further say, in justice to Dr. Laurie, and the most devout worshipers in the congregation of the Presbyterian Church of Bellefonte, that the deliverance of that sermon, with perhaps one or two exceptions not relating to the matter of granting License, received the approval of a large proportion of the christian men and women who heard it preached.

March 14, 1890. A CHURCH MEMBER.

Caught in a Shaft.

A lad named Daniel Taylor met a horrible death in a picture frame factory at Williamsport on Thursday. The boys clothing caught on a shaft which was revolving at the rate of 300 revolutions a minute, and he was whirled around his body striking against the timber above until he was almost lifeless. The machinery was stopped and the boy removed from the shaft as quickly as possible and doctors called to his aid, but his death resulted one hour later. The body was terribly mangled and bruised, the limbs broken in several places, and the right arm almost torn off. Young Taylor was about 15 years old.

They Can't Come.

The Cornell Glee Club and the Banjo Club of the Cornell University cannot be in Bellefonte on the 22nd of this month, as was expected, to give an entertainment unedr the auspices and for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A. This announcement will be a great disappointment to the music-loving people of Bellefonte, as to hear the above celebrated musicians would have been a rare treat.

Many Thanks.

Mrs. D. Griffes desires to extend heartfelt thanks to Mrs. Thomas Shearer and Mrs. John Proser for the kind attention they bestowed on her during a recent illness. They never seemed to tire in doing anything possible for them to do and then to cap the climax gave the lady a surprise donation party on last Friday afternoon. Both the ladies mentioned are members of the M. E. church

THE NEXT CENSUS.

What the Law Says Upon the Matter and Captain Bricker's Opinion on the Subject—Of Public Interest.

One of the mort important events of 1890 will be the taking of the census, which will be done during the month of June. It is a well established fact that since the last general census was taken—in 1880—there have been wonderful advances made in every state in the union and no where will the advance be more marked than in this, the sixth district of Pennsylvania. The increase in population will, of course, be not so great as it is in some other places, but financially and in various ways the rating of this district will, no doubt, be one of the best. There are many things in connection with the taking of the census, and especially with the census takers of which the general public are in comparative ignorance, and on this theme Capt. Bricker talks as follows to a reporter of the Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin:

The office of Census Supervisor, like kindred public positions, is not a happy one, for there seems to be no end of applicants after the portfolios of enumerators. Captain P D Bricker, of Jersey Shore, Supervisor of the Sixth District, has a big work before him but we believe him amply qualified to meet all demands. He will look after the counties of Lycoming, Sullivan, Bradford, Tioga, Clinton, Centre, Potter, Cameron, Clearfield, Elk and McKean. This is the largest district in the state in point of territory, the Seventh and Eighth districts, however, coming very close to that distinction.

It is well and timely that the public should know there are certain offices incompatible with the office of census enumerator, and all applicants should govern themselves accordingly. By reference to Act of Assembly approved May 15, A D 1874 P L., 186, we find such offices to be "Justice of the Peace, notary public, mayor, recorder, burgess or alderman of any city, corporate town or borough, resident physician of the lazaretto' constable, judge, inspector or clerk of election under this Commonwealth."

The law says further; "The holding of any of the aforesaid offices or appointments under this State, is hereby declared to be incompatible with any office or appointment under the United States and every such commission, office or appointment so holden under the government of this State, contrary to the true interest and meaning of this act shall be and is hereby declared to be null and void." The penalty for the violation of this law, if legally convicted is a fine of not less than $50 nor more than $500.

Regarding the above Captain Bricker says to the Gazette and Bulletin: "I will not recommend for appointment as enumerator of census any person directly or indirectly concerned, either in the assessment of property for taxation, or in the actual levying of taxation in his district, the observance of which is made absolutely imperative under letter of instruction (7-7067) dated March 5, 1890, issued to supervisors by the Superintendent of Census. All applicants will please inform me if they come under any of the above exceptions, and thus relieve me from further inquiry into their cases,"

This is a subject for the interested to consider in time.

Quite Romantic.

During the Andrews' murder trial Squire Rankin, of Karthaus, who was in attendance met at the hotel at which he boarded a buxom widow. His impression was very good, and it was later revealed that the feeling was mutual. The week after the trial the Squire again made a visit to Bellefonte, invited the lady to go with him on a visit to Karthaus, showed her his house and surroundings, offered them all to her on condition that she would accept him for better or for worse, and—but what's the use of telling any more, they are to be married this week.

A RULING ELDER,

Died in Bradford.

A telegram received by the friends in this place on Friday announced the death of Mrs. Etta M., wife of Mr. James McCafferty, of Bradford. Her death was caused by heart disease, she being ill only a short time. Mr. McCafferty is well known in this place he, for a number of years holding a clerkship in the Centre county bank.

—Mr. W. T. Meyer, in addition to carrying on his large business at the Cash Bazaar, does piano tuning when called on. In this latter occupation Mr. Meyer is as successful as he is in the store business, and parties having instruments to tune need not wait for any traveling tuner but engage Mr. Meyer.

—Mr. A. V. Smith was in Howard all day Friday taking an invoice of his deceased brother, J. Linn Smith's store. He returned to Bellefonte next day.

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT.

A Man Cut to Pieces on the Railroad Near Huntingdon.

Special to the TRIBUNE:

HUNTINGDON, Pa., March 14.—A terrible accident occurred to-night to a track walker about three miles west of this place, the unfortunate man being, probably, Absolom Henry, who was engaged at one of the numerous lumber camps in Diamond valley, near Barree. The body was observed lying along the railroad track by a brakeman on an east bound train, and an engine was sent up from here at once to recover the remains. When brought to the company's hospital here none of the many persons who viewed the body could identify it. An inspection by Coroner Harmon disclosed the fact that the man had not been a professional tramp and that he probably met his death while walking in a bewildered condition on the railroad.

The body presented a horrible appearance. The head was dismembered from the trunk, the right arm cut off close to the shoulder and the abdomen punctured so deeply that the entrails protruded. Both feet were also badly smashed. The man was comfortably dressed; wearing a new coat and hat and new underclothes. On his person was found seven dollars in money, a razor, a fife and other trifling articles. The coroner impaneled a jury and an inquest will be held to-morrow.

A Mr. Shawley, who had just arrived before the jury retired, stated that the deceased was one Absolom Henry, a man who had been employed in a lumber camp in Diamond Valley. Owing to the dismembered head it was difficult to completely identify the body, but Mr. Shawley gave it as his opinion that it was the body of Henry. It was stated that Henry had left Baree this morning for Tyrone.

The body will be given over to the county authorities for burial. The unfortunate man leaves a widow and three children.

A Card.

BELLEFONTE, PA., March 12, 1890.

Editor Daily News,

DEAR SIR:

Please give a little space in your paper for a few days for that grand and noble order the Patriotic Sons of America which is held at the Centre Iron Company's Works. We have had two brothers on the sick list for several weeks past, but we are glad to report them off the list now; they having received the care of the sick commities and there weekly benefit. We are glad to report all brothers well. Those who have received benefits are brothers William VanOrmer and Thos. Wilson. Now is the time to join, we have received a dispensation from headquarters for three months to take in for $1 muster fee instead of $3 or $5. Come honest Americans and help swell the great order. To be admitted a man must be born in the United States, of good character and sixteen years of age; none under 16 admitted: The camp meets every Thursday night.

ZEB. W. BATHURST,
President.

This camp intends to go into encampment sometime during the summer and wants a good turn out. m13-3t.

—Lock Haven has a boy who is considered a musical prodigy by his papa. "THE KING'S TOUCH."

In England, two centuries ago, popular superstition credited the "Royal Touch" with curing scrofula. These superstitious practices have now become obsolete, and in their place we have a scientific remedy in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which eliminates the impurities from the blood by the natural channels, thereby cleansing the system from all taints and impurities from whatever cause arising. It is truly a royal remedy, world-famed and the only liver, lung and blood remedy guaranteed to benefit or cure in every case, or money paid for it will be refunded. As a regulator of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels, "Golden Medical Discovery" cures all bilious attacks, Indigestion and Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhea and kindred ailments. As an alterative, or blood-purifier, it manifests its marvelous properties in the cure of the worst Skin and Scalp Diseases, Salt-rheum, Tetter, Eczema, and Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, as well as Lung-scrofula, commonly known as Pulmonary Consumption, if taken in time and given a fair trial. is one that promotes digestion, improves the appetite, cleanses the liver, purifies the blood, and stimulates brain and nerves without injurious reaction, and one that may be taken alike by adult or infant. Profane compounds, made of vile rum or bad whiskey, sweetened and flavored, under the titles of bitters, tonics, &c, produce effects far worse than the disease for which they are taken.

Vinegar Bitters is a pure tonic, a nervine without being narcotic, a purifier without poison, a liver tonic without purging, and above all, a life-giving stimulant without alcohol. The only medicine with such powers in the world.

—Beatiful snow!

—Oh, for some ice.

—Is this winter snow or spring snow?

—"She" is to be in Lock Haven this week.

—The spring building boom is almost ready to burst.

—Only two weeks more and then moving time will be here.

—The Grand Army of Pennsylvania buried 625 comrades last year.

—The post office at Beech Creek has been made a money order office.

—The two next weeks will be busy ones for the court of Centre county.

—Crowds of people came to Bellefonte Monday drawn here by business, we presume.

—From present prospects coal dealers will make up next summer what they lost this winter.

—The special term of court convened Mondoá morn. It will continue in session two weeks.

—Isn't it a pity that some very good looking men were born and bred in the democratic party.

—It seems, upon a thorough investigation, that "A Ruling Elder" is not a ruling elder after all.

—There was a come down in oysters on Tuesday. If you don't believe it ask the Adams Express man.

—Col. W H Wilkinson has commenced to dig out the foundation for his new house on Allegheny street.

—T. B. Reeder of East Tyrone, has accepted a position in the car works of the Collins' Bros., this place.

—There never was a crime committed that did not leave its mark on the face of the man who committed it.

—The sermon preached by Rev. Wm. Laurie, D. D., on Sunday before last, will be published in full this week.

—In the absence of Judge Furst in Huntingdon, Judge Krebs, of Clearfield is presiding in his stead this week.

—The post office question at Howard is like an old hen that wants to hatch but can find no eggs—very unsettled.

—The residence of Mrs. Hoy, on High street is being remodeled and beautified workmen now being engaged upon it.

—Montgomery & Co., the tailors, are now crowded with work. They have orders for work that will take them a month to fill.

—There was a "fry" of 60,000 young trout came up over the Bald Eagle railroad on last Friday for distribution in the small streams of Centre and Clearfield counties, says the Lock Haven Express.

—We invite our local statesmen to a careful perusal of our article in to-day's issue entitled "Submission and Silence a Crime." They will derive food for thought and a fund of matter for reflection.

—Both parties have now been heard in writing on the Dr. Laurie sermon. Hereafter we must refuse to publish any communications unless signed by the real name of the writer. This is only in fairness to all parties concerned.

—The case of Charles Cleary, who was convicted of murder in the first degree for the killing of policeman Paul, in Renovo, will be argued before the Supreme Court on the 21st day of April. A special session will be held at that time.

THE BOROUGH DADS.

Every Member of Council Was in His Place Around the Table on Monday Night.

At 7.14 o'clock on Monday night when Council was called to order by President Samuel Gault every man was in his place and it certainly put one in mind of and also gave an explanation of that old saw "A new broom sweeps clean"—because all the straws are in their respective places.

The first business of the evening was a written communication, presented by Mr. Potter, from the Undine Hose Company asking for 300 feet of hose. Referred to Fire and Police Committe with power to act.

Reports of Committees were then called for and street committee had nothing to report. Nuisance committee no report to make.

Water committee reported that it had been decided to lay 1½ inch water pipe on Howard street for a distance of 240 feet opposite cemetery. They had advertised for digging ditch, also had advertised for bids to supply water works with coal for one year.

Fire and Police committe reported that they had investigated the Magill property on Spring street and that it would be removed as soon as possible.

Finance committee reported that they had requested the borough solicitor to draw up a supplement to the ordinance of 1841 covering play house licenses, as referred to at last meeting.

The bids for supplying water works with coal were then opened. Only two were received, one from Hoover & Miller and the other Bellefonte Fuel & Supply Co. The former offered to furnish best Lehigh Valley as mind in Snow Shoe at $1.65 per net ton. The latter best bituminous, delivered from the car, at $1.69 per ton. The decision was held over until next meeting night.

Treasurer Cook made complaint through Water committee that the two Cherry frmilies living in Bush's Addition have failed to fulfill their part of an agreement entered into with the borough for the payment of water tax. By a vote of Council Water committee was instructed to shut off the water.

Bids for the digging of the ditch on Howard street were then opened and were as follows:

John Kunes, digging and filling.....15c per foot
Thos H Clark, digging and filling.....12c per foot
A L & Frank Miller, digging & filling...12c per foot
Wm Dawson, digging.....9½c per foot

Contract was awarded to Thos. H. Clark at 12 cents per foot for digging and filling.

Water committee requested permission of council to buy one or two water meters. Council voted the commitee the permission desired.

Finance committee presented bond of Samuel Delige for High Constable, in the sum of $300 signed by C. M. Bower and Ellis Orvis. Also bond of James Schofield for overseer of the poor, in the sum of $5,000 signed by J. L. Spangler and W. C. Heinle. Both approved by Council,

S. A. Brew asked that William Toner, an aged man, be exonerated from the payment of 1889 taxes. Council so ordered.

Borough Solicitor, Clement Dale, appeared and spoke regarding the proposed amendment to the play house ordinance that himself, the Chief Burgess and the Assistant Burgess thought it would be unwise to pass such on ordinance as the Council had suggested, inasmuch as it gave exclusive privilege to one man, and suggested passing an ordinance covering the case for the town. It was so ordered and the ordinance will be prepared and presented at the next meeting.

Members of the Keystone Club presented a petition praying for the appointment of A B Jackson as policeman. Application referred to Chief Burgess to consider with other applications he may receive, and the Council will await his recommendations to be made at next meeting.

Mr. Potter made a motion that the President of Council be authorized to make application to the post office department for a free mail delivery in Bellefonte. So ordered.

Mr. James Schofield appeared and asked Council to make arrangements to take broken stone from him which he has had broken and paid for out of the borough fund. Also requested the paving of Thomas street.

H C Yeager made complaint about the bad condition of boardwalks in various parts of town. Street committee was instructed to visit all parts of the town and see that walks are put in good condition.

A small number of bills were then approved and Council adjourned after a session of an hour and a half.

—One of the Mifflin county papers has a column of candidate's announcements in its last issue. If all the democrats in this county that have been given promises, by the party leaders, of an office this fall were to announce themselves it would fill about a page. The above is based on what we hear from members of the party referred to.

—No taxpayer in Centre county has any right to make complaint about the amount of tax levied in this county. The amount levied has only been 2½ mills—and it may be reduced to 2 this year—while in our sister counties it runs from 4 to 7. The citizens can thank the Republican board of commissioners for the nominal millage.

He was in Bellefonte.

That good looking, whitehaired, chubby-faced, fat and jolly, sharp and witty editor of the Lock Haven Democrat Joseph W Furey, was in Bellefonte on Monday. He came to town on Saturday night and departed on the late train Monday night. Very few of the members of his own party knew the prominent politician, who was accompanied by a Mr. Riley, ex-chairman of the democratic party in Lycoming county, was in Bellefonte until Monday. When they did find it out, however, he was besieged with callers and interviewers, something on the nature of a politicians informal reception, you know, although it was generally believed that Joe had a boy out with a call-bell ringing them in. Mr. Furey was very full—of politics; two full for utterance. When asked who Clinton county would give the delegates to for governor he said he "didn't know." When asked which was the most popular in Lock Haven, Hastings or Delamater, he said "both had friends." And to a long list of just such important questions Joe gave just such full and satisfactory answers. Oh! there is no denying it; he is a "rusher" in politics as well as in newspaper work and the only thing that we can't fathom is why Lock Haven democrats have not long ago recognized his merits and elected him High Constable or to some other equally high and dignified office. Bellefonte recognized him fittingly when he resided here, they gave him—the refusal to several applications for appointment to office. Come back to Bellefonte brother, come back; here is the only place in Pennsylvania that it is worthwhile living in anyway.

His Opinion of Centre County.

From the Williamsport REPUBLICAN.

Abe Good the Seventh ward miller, had a pleasant trip through the Nittany and Penn's valleys yesterday. He left home on the early morning train for Bellefonte and came home on Fast Line last evening by way of Lewisburg and Montandon, having traveled about one hundred and fifty miles. Abe says it is worth any man's while to take this trip, and that he passed through one of the richest farming countries in Central Pennsylvania. Although there are good farms, the people do not seem to get along very well, and he says he could have bought good work horses for from $40 to $50 apiece, and cows were proportionately cheap. He says there are the prettiest mountain streams in the State in that county, and he saw hundreds of men and boys who had nothing else to do but fish for suckers which they caught by the dozen. While away he bought 2,500 bushels of wheat to be delivered in May. He makes these trips several times a year and finds time to admire the country while doing business on the circuit.

The Body Was That of Thomas Higgins

Special to the Tribune.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., March 16.—The decapitated body of a man found lying along the railroad a short distance west of this place, on Friday night and which was identified by a neighbor to be that of Absolom Henry, a lumberman, of near Barree, was not the remains of that person, who it has since been learned, is still in the land of the living. Mr. Shawley, the man who identified the remains at the coroner's inquest, was very positive in his assertion, as was also a companion who came with him for that purpose. The coroner's jury held another session yesterday, and they report that they believe the unfortunate man to have been Thomas Higgins, of Pittsburgh. On the body was found papers bearing this name, and also a bill from a Pittsburgh laundry made out in the name of Thomas Higgins. The body was interred here yesterday at the expense of the county.

—Workmen are busily engaged remodeling the Brockerhoff block. The front of the store room lately occupied by Simon Loeb, also the one occupied by F P. Blair, has been torn out and will be replaced by a glass front. Before this is done, however, in the first mentioned room the floor will be lowered to the level of the pavement and various improvements inside will be made. All the store rooms in the block will be similarly remodeled and fixed up and when completed it will be as handsome a block as there is in Bellefonte.

—Bulletin No. 10, Pennsylvania State College Agricultural Experiment Station, H P Armsby, director, has been received at this office. It deals principally with the following: "Should farmers raise their own vegetable seeds?" "Notes on new varieties of vegetables." "Tests of agricultural varieties, 1889." The instruction and information contained therein would be of great benefit to any farmer if studied and put into practice.

—The Bellefonte band practices with almost clock-work regularity, and the result of such earnestness is very observant in the masterly way they can now play even most difficult pieces. The band, as it now is, reflects great credit on Bellefonte, and the music loving citizens of the town, are under many obligations to those who were instrumental in organizing it, chief among whom was Mr. Al. Garman.

CUPID PLAYS HIS PRANKS.

And the Dignified Squire Rankin is Caught in the Meshes.

"It is an ill wind that blows nobody any good." With the trial and conviction of Alfred Andrews for the hideous and fearful crime of murdering fair Clara Price, a far different trial, which eventually resulted in a terrible conviction of the unmistakable, yet pleasant truth, was in progress, and, where formerly two hearts beat as two hearts, now there are "two hearts that beat as one," and the full consummation of this charming and rather romantic drama, as played on the stage of life with the halls of justice as the theatre, was enacted in the parlors of the Cumming's House, Bishop street, on Tuesday morning, March 18th, at ten minutes after eleven o'clock, when Andrew Rankin, Esq., of Karthaus, stood up beside and hand in hand with Mrs. Sarah E Myers, of Milesburg, and to the questions of the Rev. G P Sarvis, Methodist minister of Pleasant Gap, answered affirmatively and declared that he would love, honor, and protect, until death do us part, etc., and the blessing of the reverend gentleman was bestowed and then reversing the poet's beautiful lines, we find that "one went out where formerly two had gone in."

About fifty invited guests had assembled, to witness the union of this happy and trusting couple, most of whom were from Milesburg and a few from Snow Shoe and Bellefonte. After the ceremony was over the presents were displayed. There was a large collection of gifts that will prove both ornamental and useful, and in their selection considerable taste was certainly displayed. Some were quite valuable. Dinner was then served at the hotel.

In the evening the wedding party went to Milesburg where a dinner was given in their honor at the home of Mrs. McMullen. It is needless to say that this repast was thoroughly enjoyed by all, for who ever saw a wedding party, except the bride and groom, that couldn't eat heartily and especially when such tempting viands as those that covered the table of Mrs, McMullen were spread before them.

We believe that Mr, and Mrs. Rankin will repair at once to their home at Karthaus and enjoy their honeymoon in the solitude of their own habitation. With hosts of friends the DAILY NEWS extends congratulations and best wishes.

Mr. Woodward Not a Granger

Under the caption of "Mr. Woodward not a Granger," we see the following in Tuesday's Philadelphia Press:—in your issue of Wednesday, the 12th inst., I am reported, in a Harrisburg despatch, as an officer of an organization of grangers formed in that city. I have never been a member of the grangers, nor an exhibitor upon its grounds. I was not present at the meeting referred to, and those who were had no authority whatever to use my name in any way.

JOHN A. WOODWARD.
Howard, Pa., March 17, 1890.

Another Good Thing

On and after this date the Bellefonte post office will be kept open every evening until 9 o'clock instead of closing at 8 o'clock as usual. This will admit of the distribution of the late mail coming in at 8.40, and persons need not wait until the next morning to get the same. No money orders, however, will be issued after 8 o'clock p. m.

This is another step in the right direction under the new administration, and now when Bellefonte gets the free delivery, which it undoubtedly will by the first of July, it will enjoy such mail facilities that is not had even in the large cities. So much for a republican postmaster

In the stables of John E DuBois, at DuBois, Pa., that fine bred mare Jenny Lind rests, very proud over a youngster who already shows that he has the mark and making of a fine horse. With a long line of ancestry upon the side of his dam who has a record of 2.17, traceable back to the blue grass region of Kentucky, he has also a princely descent from his sire, Roy Wilkes, who has a record of 2.12. The little fellow is as handsome as a picture, with a slight white mark upon his ankle; of a handsome color, not too dark, and shows that blood will tell. He gives unmistakable evidence that he is a pacer, always an indication of speed. He is now scarce a week old, but stands as strong and healthy as his owner could wish.

On The River

The river continues to fall, and it is hardly likely any more rafts will reach here on this flood. About thirty rafts have come down, the majority of them of not extra quality, although there are some exceptions, notably one fine oak raft, which the owners hold at 30 cents. Prices on other rafts range in the neighborhood of 8½ to 10 cents for hemlock and 10 to 16 cents for pine and oak. The market is not very active, but few sales being made, Lumberman Small, of York, no doubt being the heaviest buyer.—L. H. Democrat.

Continued Honors.

A dispatch from Washington under date of the 17th says: The Pennsylvania Club, of Washington, to-night re-elected as President John I. Rankin, of Bellefonte, for the coming year. The following committee was appointed to arrange for a public reception to Senator Quay on his return from Florida: E C Howland, J H Shoemaker, J C Queen, William Platt and J B Gillespie.

—W. J. Finley, a brakeman on the Pennsylvania railroad, was killed at 10 o'clock Sunday morning just west of Altoona. In attempting to make a coupling he was thrown down and the cabin car and poney wheels of the engine passed over his body. Finley was 25 years of age and unmarried. He was a resident of Nineveh, Westmoreland county.

—Dr. J C Richards, a widely known and much esteemed citizen of Philipsburg, died at his home in that place on Saturday morning. Dr. Richards was born at Stormstown, this county, on March 21st, 1822, so that had he lived a week longer he would have been 68 years old. The funeral of deceased occurred on Monday at two o'clock in the afternoon.

—The Tyrone Times this week publishes a picture and sketch of General Hastings. It says that its readers will know who it is for for Governor so that it don't make any difference what it prints That is hard to believe as the Times is for a new man about every two weeks.

—An exchange remarks that Centre county's millage will go above 2½ if the murder trials keep up. They don't know about the surplus in the treasury. Probably in the county of our editorial friend there is no surplus.

—Cards are out announcing the marriage on Thursday, March 27th, of Miss S Emma Miller and Mr. Charles H Garis, both of Axe Mann. The wedding will take place at the home of the bride.

—After the wedding at the Cummings house on Tuesday, Catherine Mable, the seven month's old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Haag, was baptized and christened.

ALL FOR HASTINGS.

Centre County Committeemen Solid for the Adjutant General.

At a full meeting of the Republican Executive Committee of Centre county, held in the office of the County Chairman, L. L. Brown, on Tuesday afternoon, it was decided to hold the county convention for the election of delegates to the State Convention on Monday, March 31st, and the official call was directed to be issued and published. The following resolution was unanimously passed and adopted:

The Republican Executive Committee of Centre county, recognizing the eminent ability and fitness of our fellow citizen, Gen. D. H. Hastings, who is a candidate for the nomination, on the Republican ticket, for the office of Governor of Pennsylvania, do hereby Resolve: That we most heartily commend to the Republican party of Pennsylvania General D. H. Hastings, as a candidate in whom are combined all the elements that will insure success for our party in November next.

Resolved further: That we hereby pledge our earnest and united support in his behalf, and that we shall use every honorable means to secure his nomination for the office named

License Court

Special to the tribune

HUNTINGDON, Pa., March 18.—The fate of the four applicants for liquor license in this county is now in the judicial balance. The March term of argument court convened this morning, and the number of cases to be disposed of on the docket was very large. For this reason it was not expected by the public that a hearing of the license applications would be held to-day, but by 3 o'clock Judge Furst, in his usual expeditious manner, had given a hearing to arguments in all the available cases and at once called up the business of the license court. The lawyers themselves, representing both sides of the question, were taken somewhat by surprise and considerable commotion was occasioned before the opposing forces could be marshalled before the court to do battle for their respective sides. The applications of the four petitioners were first offered by M. W. McNeil, esq. These were for distillers' license, Reuben S. Coyle, at Barree; wholesale license, Martin Grube, First ward, Huntingdon; hotel license, George E. Leister, Leister House, Huntingdon; bottler's license, H D Reiners, Huntingdon. Accompanying these applications was a general remonstrance, prepared under the auspices of the Woman's Christian Temperance union of Huntingdon. While this remonstrance against the granting of licenses embraced all of the four applications presented to the court, there was a special remonstrance also offered against the application of Martin Grube, the only substantial feature of which was that the license was not necessary.

Peddling is Illegal.

PHILADELPHIA, March 18.—The Supreme Court reaffirmed their decision in regard to peddlers to-day when they handed down an opinion by Judge Williams in the case of the Commonwealth against Gardner and others appealed from the court of Schuylkill county. The opinion refutes the argument made that to forbid peddling is a violation of the bill of rights. The opinion states:

Our laws relating to peddling are directed, not against the right of acquisition, but the manner in which some people exercise that right, and are therefore not in violation of the constitutional rights of goods, but are a wise exercise of the police power as to the manner in which goods shall be sold. The conviction in the lower court is sustained.

What Clinton County Thinks of Hastings.

General Hastings is justly entitled to the Republican delegate from this county to the State Convention. Being a native of Clinton, and a resident for many years of an adjoining county, it appears to us that there should be no contest over the matter. General Hastings has made for himself an enviable reputation as a member of Governor Beaver's administration and if nominated and elected Governor, would fill the position in an honorable manner. If nominated there is no doubt of his election.

Millheim Murmurings.

Miss Emma Bair and Miss Weaver, of Rebersburg, were visiting at Dr. Frank's pleasant home on West Penn street.

Miss May Hartman, an accomplished and estimable young lady from this place, was over at the Coburn station on Monday afternoon to see a friend off.

The recent rainy weather in this vicinity put the roads in a terrible condition for heavy hauling.

Mr. R A Bumiller's visit to Loganton proved to be a very pleasant trip for him.
